SONS OF O.N.U.

March away to victory for Northern
Our gallant sons must win the fight
Do or die shall be our cry for Northern.
We'll battle hard to gain the right
When at last our day is past at Northern.
And we shall go on our lonely way
We shall strive with hand and heart dear
Northern
in gratitude our debt to thee to pay—
All hail to thee our Alma Mater
All hail to thee our Alma Mater
All hail Northern, All hail Sorthern.
All hail to thee our dear old O. N. U.

Sons of old O. N. U.—Dear O. N. U.
Arise
Protect your college flag
Unfurl it to the skies.
We'll be her loyal sons,
Faithful and true,
We'll fight with might to gain the right

HILL MEMORIAL

The College of Education

In 1871, Dr. Lehr established his Normal School for the instruction of teachers in the science of education, the art of teaching and the best methods of governing schools. From that time to the present, a leading feature of the school has been the preparation of teachers.

As the school grew, more departments were added and the Normal School was placed under the College of Liberal Arts. The degree of Bachelor of Pedagogy was conferred upon those completing a two-year Teachers' Course, and Master of Pedagogy for a three-year course.

In 1908, the Normal School was made a distinct department and the post-graduate work was discontinued. In 1912, a four-year course was required for the degree of Bachelor of Pedagogy and those completing the two years course were certified as Graduates of Pedagogy. The Catalogue for 1915 announced the College of Education with a two-year course in Pedagogy and a four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education.

The work of both departments is recognized by the Ohio State College Association and the American College Association. E. C. Darnell has taken the place of the late Dr. Davison as Dean of the College of Education. —VIOLA WILLEKE

Campus Buildings

The College of Liberal Arts

The Liberal Arts College attracts the attention of every student by the high standards which it establishes for the elevation of the Ohio Northern University among the universities of the nation. This college from its infancy has blazed the path of knowledge and truth.

This college originated during the time when the Ohio Normal School developed into the Ohio Northern University. From a small nucleus, with only a few teachers and students, it has unfolded until now it comprises such departments as: Religion, Chemistry, Biology, English, Greek and Latin, History, Mathematics, Modern Languages, Physical Education, Political Science, Physics and Social Sciences. This advancement has been due in a large way to the efficient work of Dean Huber and his able corps of teachers.

The purpose of the college is to broaden the horizon of individuals, to develop the intrinsic value of high citizenship, and prepare them for future life service. Harmony and co-operation are the key-note principles that brought about the dynamic forces so necessary in the molding and the shaping of character for the furtherance of a maximum manhood and womanhood.

—S. Lee Whiteman, Jr.

DUKES MEMORIAL

The College of Engineering

Engineering comprised things either military or civil until a century ago. Special branches were not clearly defined until about the middle of the nineteenth century. Now, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, Chemical and Mining Engineering are recognized as the main groups of Engineering. Under these heads we find many important divisions, any one of which may readily consume the entire time of the practitioner.

Engineering, as a separate course, was recognized at Ohio Northern in 1881. The following year the Degree of C. E. was conferred on a graduate in Civil Engineering. In 1884 a course in Mechanical Engineering was organized. The following year the Electrical Engineering course was organized and at a still later date we find a course in Chemical Engineering being offered. These branches comprise the Engineering Courses as offered at Ohio Northern at the present time. In 1903 the course was lengthened to the present length of 10 terms. Under the leadership of such men as Prof. D. D. Ewing, Dr. T. J. Smull and Prof. C. R. Alden, who have headed the Engineering Department in the past, the department has continued to hold its enviable record.

No one can definitely predict what will be the immediate future development of Engineering Courses. It is clearly recognized that the engineer must be equipped to be a leader in the community. He must know mathematics and mechanics; but equally important is the knowledge of prices, an understanding of labor problems, and an ability to increase production and reduce the cost of manufacture, for good engineering practices are good economic practices. Above all he must be a sympathetic student of human engineering.

—WALTER W. COTNER.

WARREN G. HARDING MEMORIAL

The Harding College of Law

The College of Law was organized as a department of the University in 1885, and numbers among its alumni and former students many of the most prominent lawyers of Ohio and other states. The new building of the College of Law was completed in the spring of 1924. At this time the name was changed to the Warren G. Harding College of Law in commemoration of the late Warren G. Harding, who held an honorary degree from the Ohio Northern University. It is a beautiful ornamental brick—in the classic design—containing a large well-lighted library and reading room, also Moot Court and four lecture rooms.

The aim of the founders of the College of Law was to afford an opportunity for students of limited means, to secure a collegiate training in law, and by connecting it with the University to offer to them an added opportunity of obtaining the general education indispensable to the successful study and practice of law.

The faculty has been enlarged in the past few years, and is considered one of the best in the country. In all respects the Law College, with the addition of the new building and equipment, is better prepared than ever to accomplish the purpose of its founders, and to add greatly to its high record of usefulness and service.

—MARIE FIALLA.

PHARMACY BUILDING

The School of Pharmacy

The School of Pharmacy was organized in 1885 by Dr. Lehr, immediately after legislation made it compulsory for druggists to pass a state examination before practicing pharmacy. Mr. Charles Ashbrook was summoned to take the office of Dean. He resigned shortly after and thereafter for some years it was difficult to locate the right man for the office. Finally, the Hon. Brigham Young, who became a national figure in latter life, took charge. He was succeeded by David C. Moehler who held the chair until 1917.

In 1917 Rudolph R. Raabe, the present Dean, took the office. In the years which he has held academic authority he has done much to build up a more extensive and thorough course in the art of pharmacy. The completely equipped laboratories and systematized courses are mute tributes to his work.

A glance into the state records of pharmacy grades on state examinations will serve to convince that the School of Pharmacy at Northern is doing it's work well. The majority of high honors in the past years have gone to men from Ohio Northern. That is achievement.

The aim of the School, is to graduate pharmacists who will be competent, intelligent and safe. The motto taught typifies the spirit of the School, "Service."

—EDWARD TRORY

LEHR MEMORIAL

The School of Commerce

In honor of Dr. H. S. Lehr, the Lehr Memorial was erected in the central part of Ohio Northern Campus in the year 1914. The edifice houses the School of Commerce, executive and administrative offices and library. Here also we find the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. headquarters and chapel.

The School of Commerce occupies the third floor of this beautiful building. Since making its home here, the department has progressed rapidly, annually adding equipment until at the present time it is one of the best equipped departments at Northern.

A Commercial Club was organized in 1914. The object was to exchange ideas among the different members of the School of Commerce and to secure speakers of note on various topics of interest to the commercial students. In the fall of 1924 the club was reorganized and a very strong program for the entire school was arranged. Under the capable leadership of Dean Long a bright future awaits this school of the University.

—DOROTHY BRAGUE.

MUSIC HALL

The A. D. Julliard School of Music

The School of Music was added in 1879, the ninth year of the University's existence. It's first director was Theo. Presser, now a millionaire music publisher of Philadelphia. This school is now known by the name of one who has given it much financial aid, the late A. D. Julliard, a wealthy patron of music of New York.

The aim of the school is to give essential and thorough musical training at a nominal expense. Complete courses leading to a diploma are available through the generosity of friends of the institution. The Public School Music Course is coming more and more to the foreground to equip workers in this ever widening field of activity.

Under such capable instructors as Dean Killeen and Professors Lamale, Warren and Brewer, the A. D. Julliard School of Music is doing, and will do much toward putting Ohio Northern in the annals of history.

Music is a means of intellectual culture. You can live just as long without it . . . . but not as well! Without idealism, no music; without music, no idealism.

—MILDRED OSMON.

BROWN GYMNASIUM

The School of Physical Education

The School of Physcal Education which was organized under the the direction of Dr. Newton offers a two-year program of special training for those who wish training for the physical directorate and athletic coaching. The Physical Directors Course is recognized by the State Department of Education and all who have completed this course are granted special certificates to teach Physical Education in public schools and institutions. Graduates are now filling responsible positions.

In addition to these courses the department has general supervision of the organization of inter-class, inter-fraternity, intra-mural and inter-society athletics. Physical Education is a required subject of every student of the University for the first half of his college course.

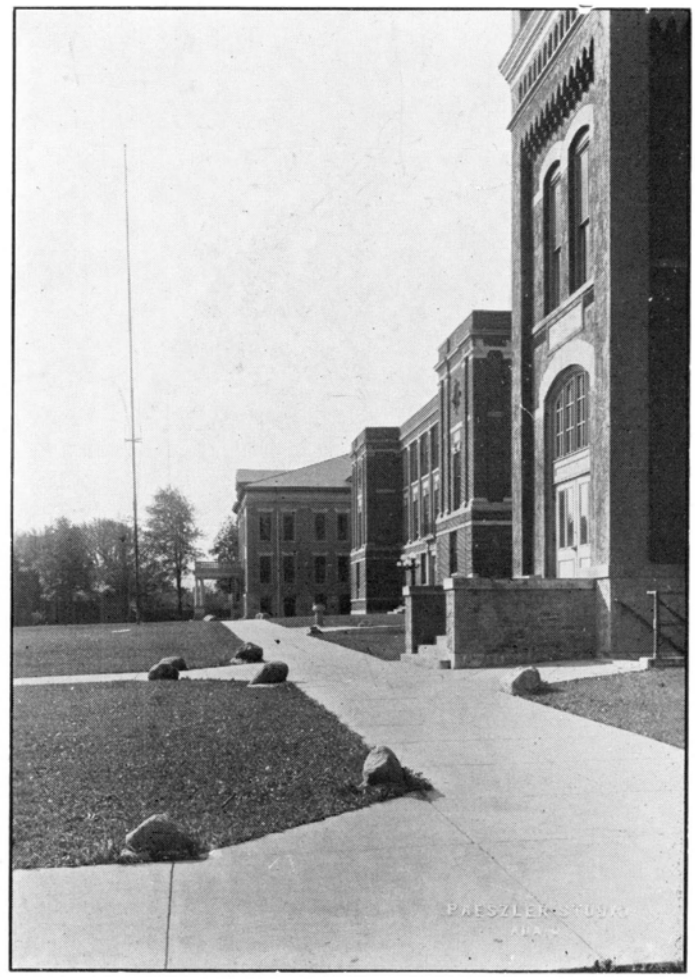

The Preparatory School

There has been preparatory work at Ohio Northern University since the founding of the school in 1871. The college work and preparatory work was never differentiated until 1910. In the spring of 1910 the Trustees recognized the College of Liberal Arts as distinct from the Normal School, thus making it necessary to have the preparatory school separate from the College.

In 1922 this school was placed on the accredited list by the State Department of Education of Ohio.

It is the purpose of this school to prepare students for College entrance and to afford an opportunity to any desiring to complete the work commonly required in first class high schools.

—PAUL H. CRAMER.

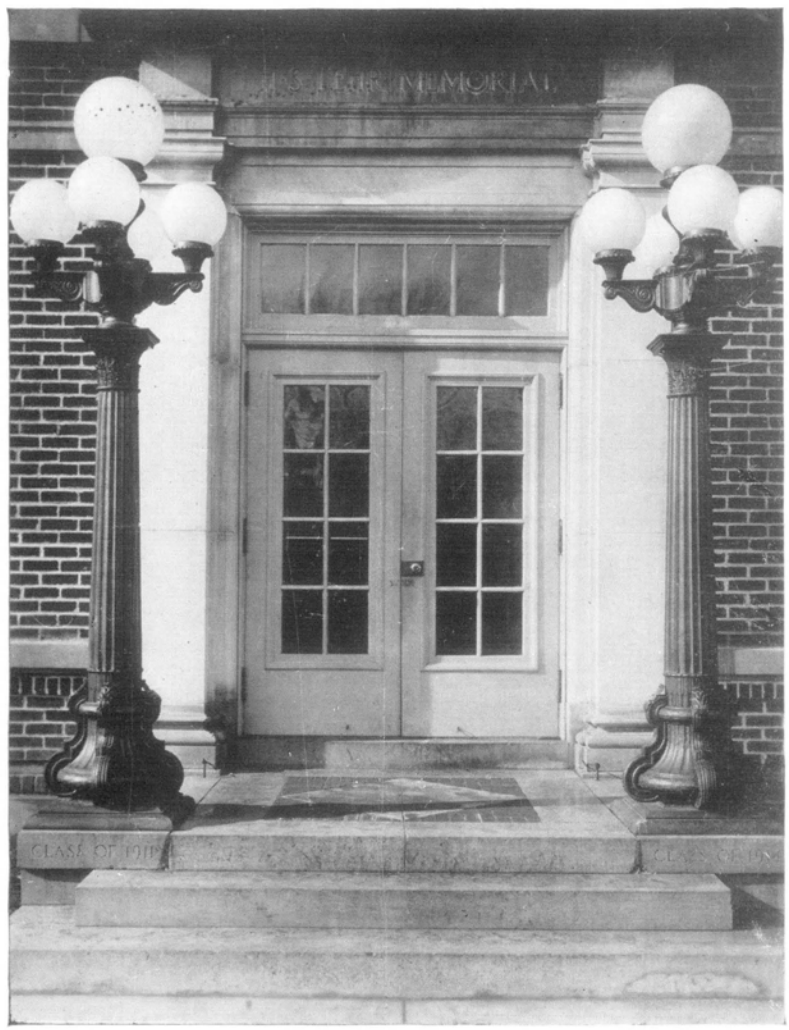

CAMPUS, LOOKING SOUTH

The School of Expression

The School of Expression originated with the organization of an Elocution Department, directed first by Professor Rowley and later by Professor Rusk. In 1887 Mrs. Mae Deming-McCoppin became director of the Department. Mrs. McCoppin has been connected with the School of Expression every since, with the exception of four years, during which time Professor Newcomer was in charge, assisted by Mr. Corcelious and Miss Jennie Bowman. In 1902 Major A. Cliffe Deming became associated with the department, directing it from 1912 to 1916. Due to his participation in the World War he did not return to the Department until 1919. Since that time he has been associate director, as Mrs. McCoppin assumed the direction of the School in 1916.

In 1921 Major Deming organized a Dramatic Club, which is now known as the Northern Players. This organization, drawn from the entire student body, has charge of the annual commencement play and stages productions throughout the college year.

—MABEL V. HAWK

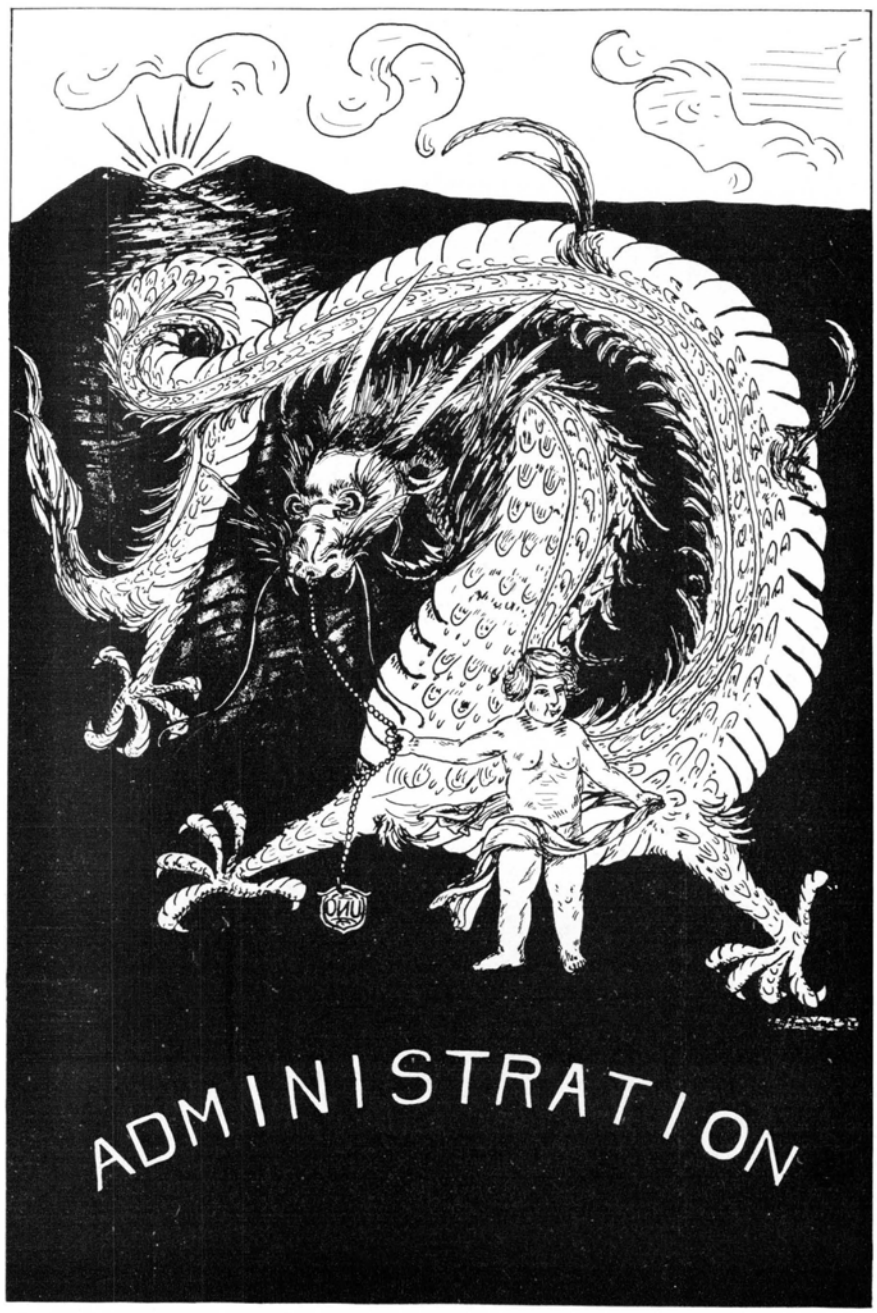

Lehr Door And Lights

The School of Fine Arts

The department of Fine Arts was established at Ohio Northern University in the ninth year of the history of the school and continued until several years later. In 1924 the department was again established under the direction of Sarah Mildred Brown. It is our hope that in the future the School of Fine Arts will receive that measure of attention which this art merits.

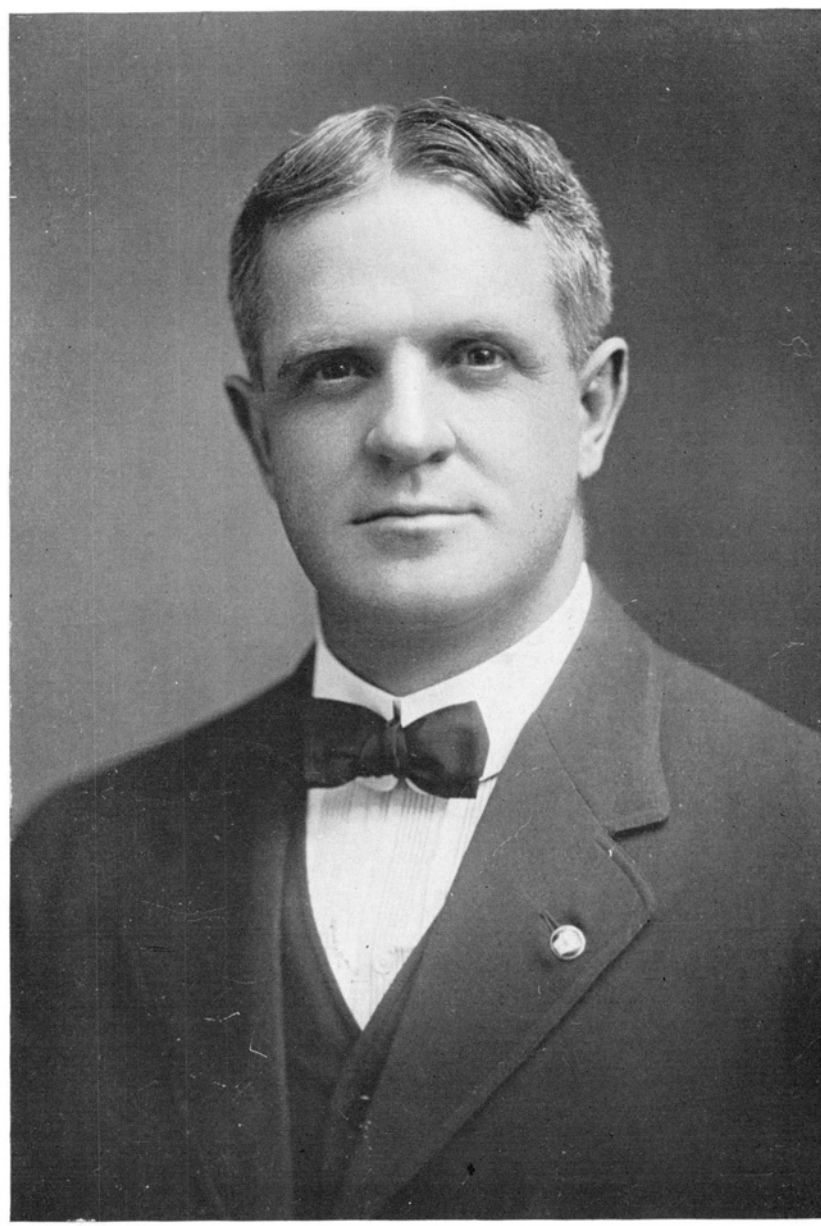

In the study of Fine Arts something is accomplished that leaves records behind in the works that have been wrought. Knowledge may be forgotten, music may be neglected, but pictures cease not to proclaim the success of the student. They remain through the years, and as books whisper to the heart, pictures speak to the soul.

O. N. U. Hymn

By Bess L. Newton

Ohio Northern! We love thy name;
Ohio Northern, long live thy fame!
We sing thy glory, sound forth thy praise
For all that gladdens our dear college days.
Ohio Northern, we will be true,
Loyal forever to dear O. N. U.

Ohio Northern, we love thee well,
Our hearts' devotion no tongue can tell.
Thy sons and daughters o'er land and sea
Reflect thy glory, bring honor to thee.
Ohio Northern, we will be true,
Loyal forever to dear O. N. U.

Dear Alma Mater, our guiding star,
Shine thou upon us when near or far;
Light thou our pathway where'er it be,—
So may the years bring glad mem'ries of thee.
Ohio Northern, we will be true,
Loyal forever to dear O. N. U.

Hail, Northern

By Millicent Warren

O-hi-o Northern, our Alma Mater, hail!
O-hi-o Northern, our faith shall never fail.
We'll honor thee though we are roaming
We'll cherish thee though far away.
O-hi-o Northern we sing thy praise today.

CHORUS

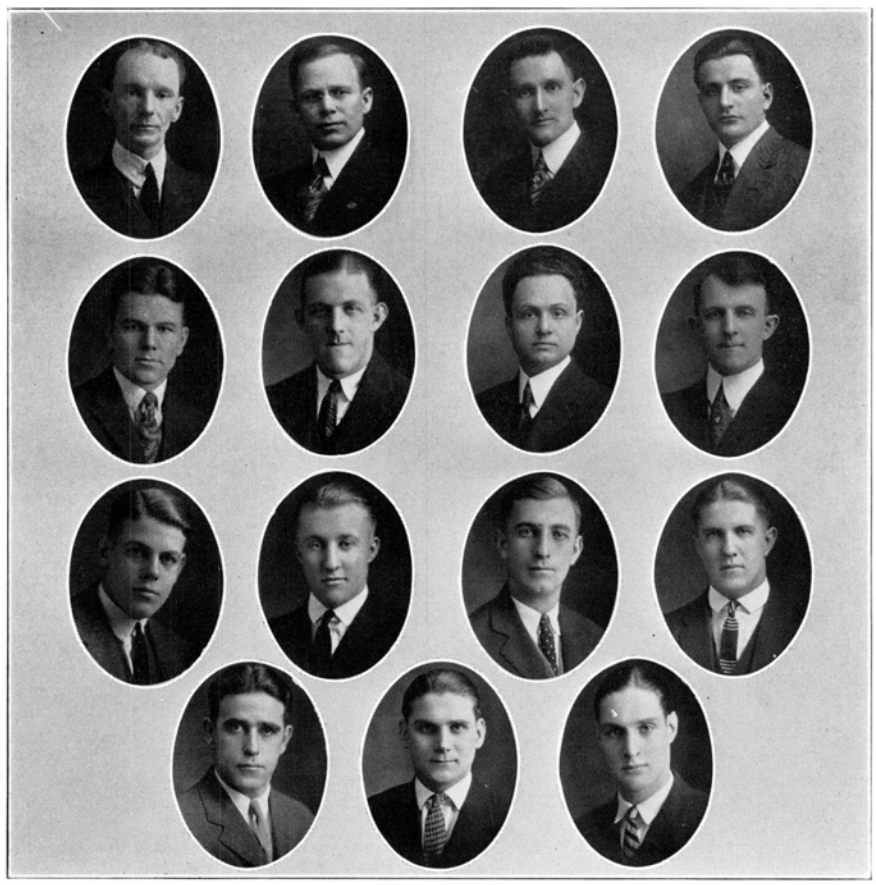

O-N-U with loyal hearts and true we sing for
O-N-U and friendships that are new when we're at
O-N-U, our college days so fair—
Brightest and best of all,
Our dear old O. N. U.

O-hi-o Northern, we love thy mem'ries rare.
O-hi-o Northern, thou gavest friendships fair.
Thy name ever claims our devotion,
Thy colors we hail as our own.
O-hi-o Northern, we sing to thee alone.

PROF. BENJAMIN RODERICK
Football Coach

DR. J. O. NEWTON
Director of Athletics

Dr. J. O. Newton

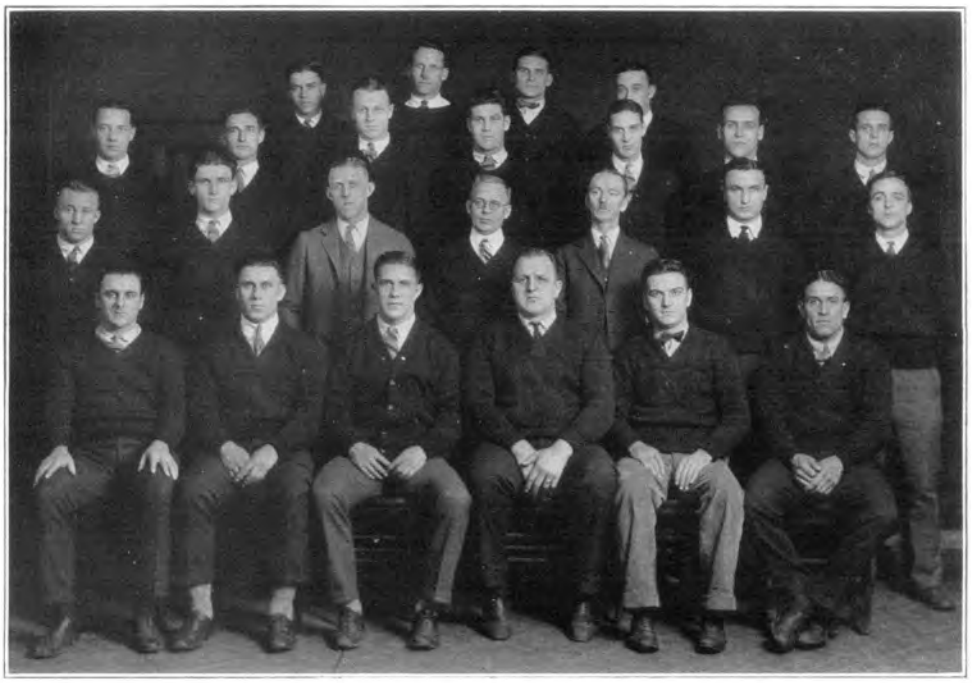

Dr. John Otto Newton, head coach of basketball and baseball, came to us in 1921 as Director of Physical Education. Since that time this department has made many improvements, thanks to the help of this man. It has not been a slow process for the athletic department has grown under his guidance with leaps and bounds.

Dr. Newton came to us from Heidelberg University, where he made a reputation for himself as a football coach and in so doing turned out many winning teams. We all must recognize his organizing ability for he has a system of his own that has certainly brought benefits to Ohio Northern. As long as he is with us we will always have a man that will do all in his power for the betterment of athletics at Ohio Northern University.

Ben Roderick

This year we have had with us a new football coach who proved his metal with his first Northern team. Roderick prepped at Massillon, Stark County, Ohio, where he hung up a great record. He then starred successively at Wooster College, Boston College and Columbia. He is undoubtedly one of the greatest fullbacks the country has produced in recent years, and is bringing a wealth of football experience to Northern. He was the prime factor in Boston College's defeat of Yale three years ago. With his knowledge of the game and the team he developed this year he made a fine showing, but greater than this he has whipped into shape some wonderful material for next year. This spring he inaugurated the spring football practice, and Northern will no doubt reap the advantages next fall.

HIRAM KATTMAN—Captain Elect

CLIFFORD KERSHNER—Captain

Coach Roderick, Boyer, Kattman, Gahman, Snow, Herge, Lehman, Lynch, Garman.
Raabe, Haley, Newland, Graham, Goldstein, Mathney, Beck.
Swisher, Graybill, Haase, Capt. Kershner, Anspach, Morgan.

CAPT. CLIFFORD KERSCHNER

Half-back

Again he has demonstrated that he is one of the greatest half-backs that Northern has ever produced. His open field running is unsurpassed and the steady form that he uses when delivering his forward passes has won him recognition throughout Western football. Cliff as captain of the team could not have been beaten for he certainly piloted the team in all tight places.

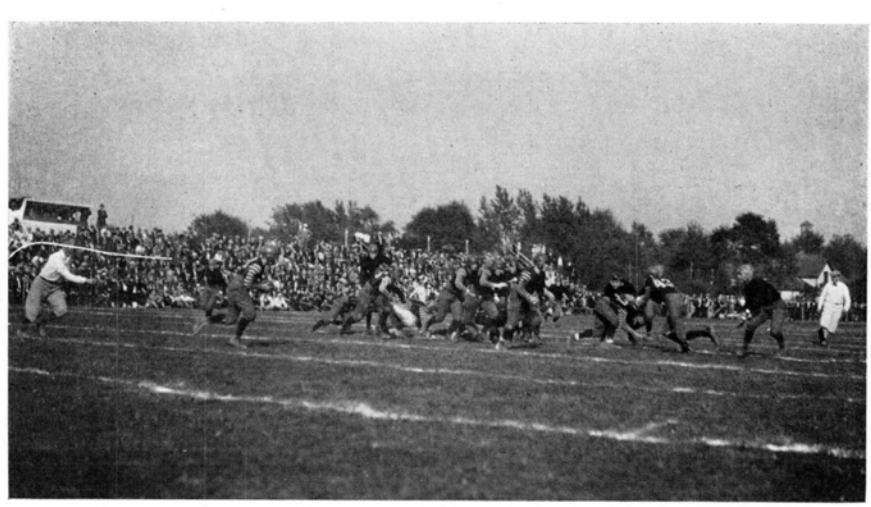

THEODORE HERGE

Tackle

Ted was one of the strong points of the Northern line. Either on offense or defense Ted could be relied on to uphold his honors of being one of the best guards on any line that Northern has ever turned out. The opponent that has to cope with him on a line, has his hands full at all times and should have a substitute to back him at a moment's notice.

FIRST GAME—BLUFFTON—OCT. 4

Northern opened the season of 1924 with a victory. Our unfortunate opponents were Bluffton College. A strong attack launched by Northern in the first quarter assured a victory for the Polar Bears. The game featured the plunging and punting ability of our team and Bluffton seemed weak on the forward pass game. Coach Roderick was active in using his substitutes. First tally was made by Anspach and Lynch made the drop count for the point. In the third period Graybill took the ball for a touchdown and this time we failed to add the point on the drop-kick. Garman made a touchdown but we had no success with the drop-kick. Final score was Northern 19 and Bluffton 2.

HERMAN SWISHER

Full-back

This year Swisher returned to Northern to complete his record in football. At full-back he proved to be the hardest line plunger of the outfit. With his head down and travelling low the opposing team knew that something had hit their line.

FRED GARMAN

Half-back

Freddie proved with his first season of varsity football that he is one of Northern's best prospects for future honors in conference football. A fast, fleet half-back who could be depended on for extra yardage in tight places with a lot of keen football sense behind all of his plays.

OHIO WESLEYAN—OCT. 11

One of the greatest games ever played in the Ohio Conference ended when we lost to Wesleyan by one point. 3 to 2 tells the story of a game that was any man's up until the last whistle blew. The first four plays were fumbles on Wesleyan's part which resulted in a safety for Northern when Lynch downed MacCracken behind the goal line. Wesleyan gained their score in the second half with a placement kick from the 27 yard line. The game was clearly Northern's in the second half when the long passes of Kerschner completely upset the Delaware squad. Northern easily excelled in forward passing, gaining 77 yards to Wesleyan's 31, although they had an edge on line bucking. Wesleyan was active with substitutions while Northern used only two additional men.

PAUL LYNCH

End

"Deacon" was back again for another season with us and he certainly had not lost any of his stellar football form. His educated toe was an effective cog in all of Northern's games. He was a man known and feared by all of his opponents.

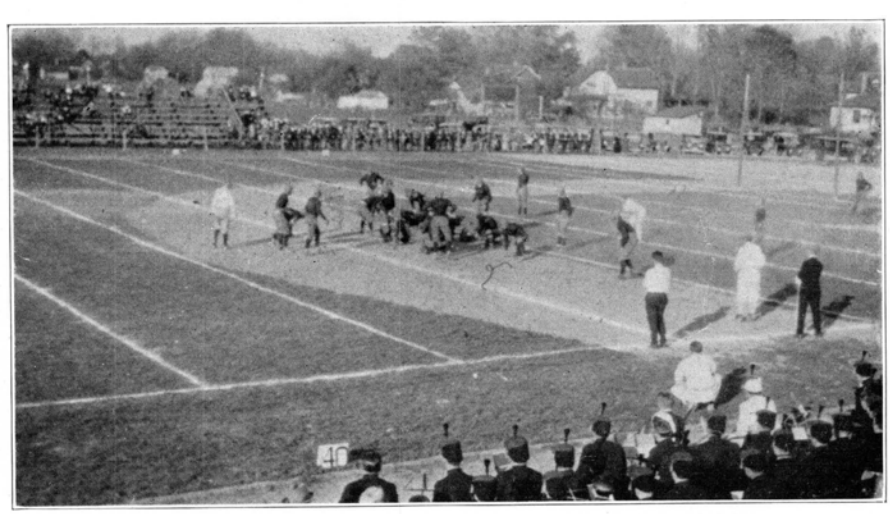

C. W. PARCELL

Guard

Parcell at guard was a new hand on Northern's varsity but to see him in action one would believe he was an old hand. He could be relied on at any time and proved that he knew the game from A to Z.

CINCINNATI — OCT. 25

As a fitting climax of a homecoming game, Northern defeated the University of Cincinnati to the tune of 9 to 0. Only once was Northern threatened and then the Cincinnati outfit was held for three downs on our one foot line. Kerschner's pass to Lynch was completed and he ran 35 yards for the only touchdown of the game. In the third quarter after a series of line plunges Keeney dropped the ball squarely between the goal posts for our additional three points. In the fourth quarter the Bearcats seemed determined to score but lost their chance on our one yard line when Lynch punted to their 30 yard line. It was a game that certainly satisfied Northern's alumni that had journeyed back to see the game.

FRANK HALEY

End

"Bart" playing his last season with Northern upheld his previous record of being one of the best players to don a uniform for the college. As a veteran with three years on the varsity team to his credit he will be missed when he leaves us this year.

EMMETT GRAYBILL

Quarter-back

"Bud" another one of our veterans was back with all his speed and pep. At quarter-back he played in a great way that showed his knowledge of the game. He could be depended on for a few additional yards in any tight place. His speciality was defense and quarter-back sneaks through the center of the line.

OHIO UNIVERSITY—NOV. 1

With an aerial game that proved to much for Ohio University the Norsemen swept through for a 12 to 7 victory. Starting with a punch Northern carried the ball for 80 yards and a pass by Kerschner was received by Raabe who raced over for the first touchdown of the game. The game seemed to favor Northern but soon the Ohio team came back and placed the ball across the line in the third quarter and then added the one point on the drop-kick. Northern then tried some line plunges that netted no gains so they opened up their aerial game that very soon gave them their second touchdown. Kerschner's passing proved the feature of the afternoon. Many of Northern fans journeyed to Athens with the team and gave them loyal backing at the game.

WILLIAM HAAS

Center

"Bruno" playing the position of center on the varsity for his first season played a game that stamped him as a class A player. That Bruno had the punch and drive was shown in all games during the season. The center of the line was a stronghold at all times.

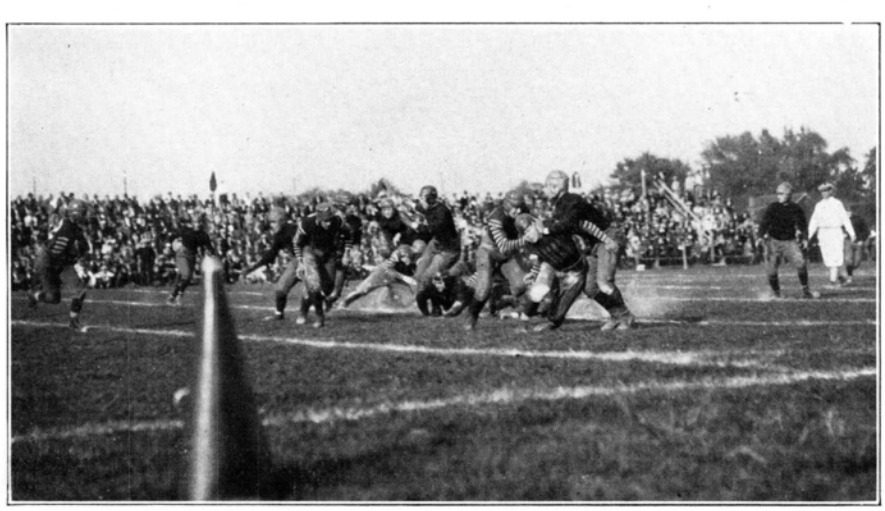

R. F. KEENEY

Quarter-back

"Ike" at quarter ran the team with cool precision making every play count. Speedy himself, he carried the ball through many small holes that only Ike himself could find. At defense he was equally good.

DENISON—NOV. 8

Northern journeyed to Denison with a team that was crippled with sore arms due to vaccinations. Even with this against them they showed their ability by holding the Big Red to a 0 to 0 tie in the first half. The first touchdown came in the third quarter when Denison made an 80 yard drive. The second came in the final quarter when Lynch was tackled when trying to punt and Denison got the ball. They then passed from a fake punt formation and Rodgers with two plunges made the count. It was a loss for Northern but they received much credit throughout the country for the valient fight they put up under such odds. Anspaugh's plunges off tackle, Swisher's crashing line bucks, and Kerschner's passes were Northern's chief offensive threats. Denison 14, Northern 0.

WALTER BOYER

Tackle

Boyer was a man that could be depended upon equally in both offense and defense. He is one of the best tacklers that Northern has yet produced. Very few gains were ever made through his half of the line.

ALBERT BECK

Guard

Beck deserves much credit for the way in which he has played the game. Beck was a regular and as such played a steady game. He was active in every play that took place while he was on the field.

HEIDELBERG—NOV. 15

After Heidelberg had scored two touchdowns on lucky breaks the Polar Bears tied the score at 14 to 14 in a thrilling comeback at Tiffin. Still under the effects of vaccinations, Kattman, right tackle, was unable to play and Swisher, full-back, had to be taken out in the first period. The second quarter of the game provided a big kick. In quick succession, Heidelberg scored two touchdowns and Northern one. The third quarter was also eventful. The Polar Bears rushed and passed the ball to within 13 yards of Heidelberg's goal, and lost it when Garman narrowly missed Kershner's pass over the goal. Heidelberg punted and the drive was resumed till Kerschner scored a touchdown. Tie game.

BUD ANSPACH

Full-back

"Bud" at half receives much credit for his knifing off-tackle drives. In the Denison game he covered himself with glory due to the manner in which he smashed through the line with or without interference.

WORTHY GAHMAN

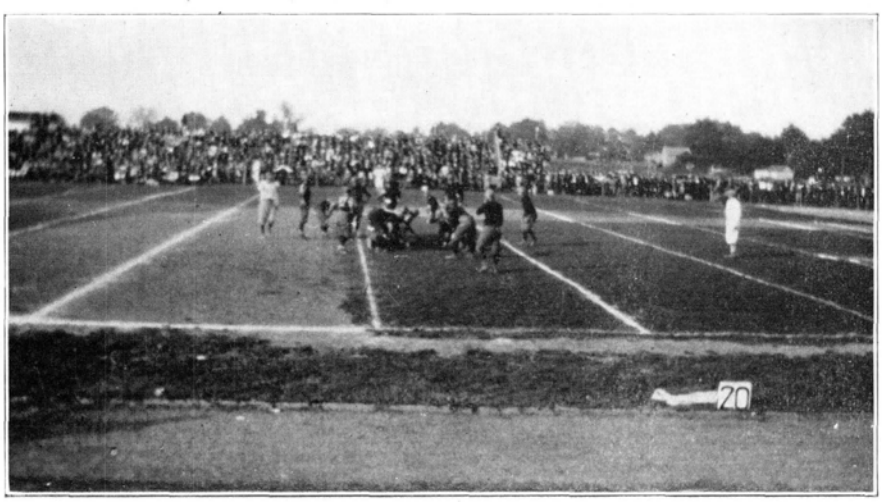

Guard

At right guard Gahman fought a hard steady game. His opponent at all times had his hands full and in many cases had too much. Gahman helped at all times to make the center of the line the stronghold that it was.

MUSKINGUM—NOV. 22

Muskingum came to Ada for the first game ever played between the two colleges, but was defeated to the tune of 17 to 0. The first points for Northern were gained when Lynch made a field goal. The ball was then taken from one end of the field to the other by both teams; passes and exchanging of punts featured these plays. Northern finally, after a long pass, reached Muskingum's 12 yard line. Anspach then made a fast off-tackle run adding the first touchdown. Lynch made the point. In the second half, Snow intercepted a long pass and made a spectacular run for 55 yards, thus netting Northern another six points. Lynch this time failed to add the point.

HAYDEN RAABE

Guard

Raabe with his first year on the varsity squad proved his ability as a football man. In all games that he was in he was an active part in the Northern machine. He will be expected to give great results on next year's squad.

RUSSELL MASON

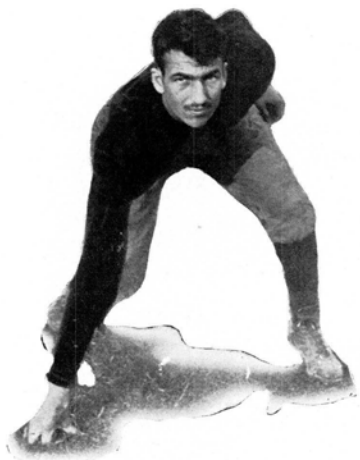

Center

Mason at center played a game that gives him much credit. Very few gains were made through him and at all times he would be found in the center of the fight. His sturdy opposition caused his opponents no end of difficulties.

WITTENBERG—NOV. 27

The Norsemen again took their annual trip to Springfield for the Turkey Day game. The air was crisp and a breeze chilled the ten thousand spectators that filled the stadium. The game opened with both teams putting forth their best efforts. Wittenberg scored a drop-kick in the first period. Then Northern received and carried the ball down to position for a field goal but missed by a few inches. There was much punting and few spectacular runs, Swisher making large gains through the line. The second period Wittenberg got away for a touchdown. The Bears were slightly off form and were unable to score although close to the goal line several times. Northern was not outplayed as the score might indicate, but many breaks in the game were against us. In spite of the score, 16-0, the Bears' fighting spirit was undaunted. This game concluded a successful season for Coach Roderick and his men.

BENJAMIN SNOW

Half-back

Ben in the backfield was a flash of speed with plenty of driving power. Whenever he got the chance he was away and it took a good man to stop him. His long running strides with his knees coming high made him a hard man to down.

HIRAM KATTMAN

Tackle

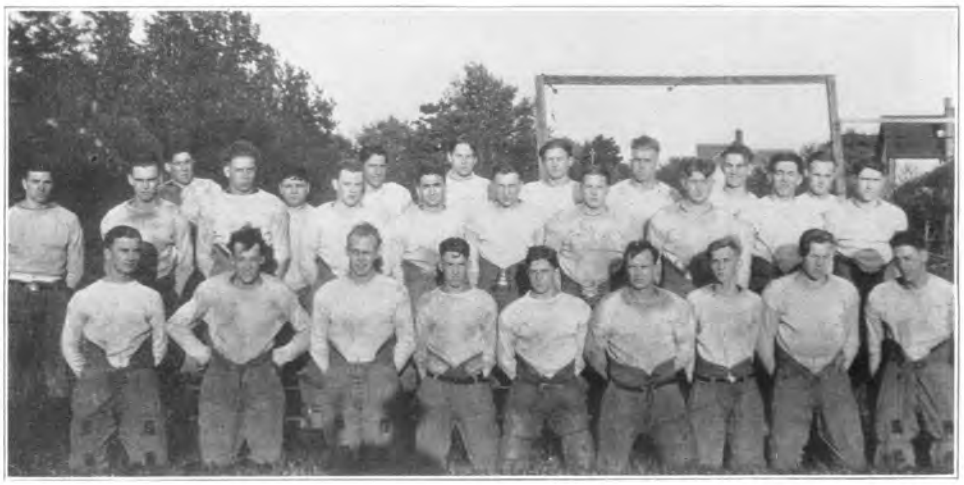

"Spiv" the man elected captain for next year's squad, was a mainstay on the team. He is a tackle who is a terror of all opposing ends and guards throughout the Ohio Conference. The team next year under his guidance will have a big point in their favor to start with.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

About forty men answered the call of the cleats Sept. 15 when Coach Sharer issued a summons to aspirants for the Freshman Football Squad.

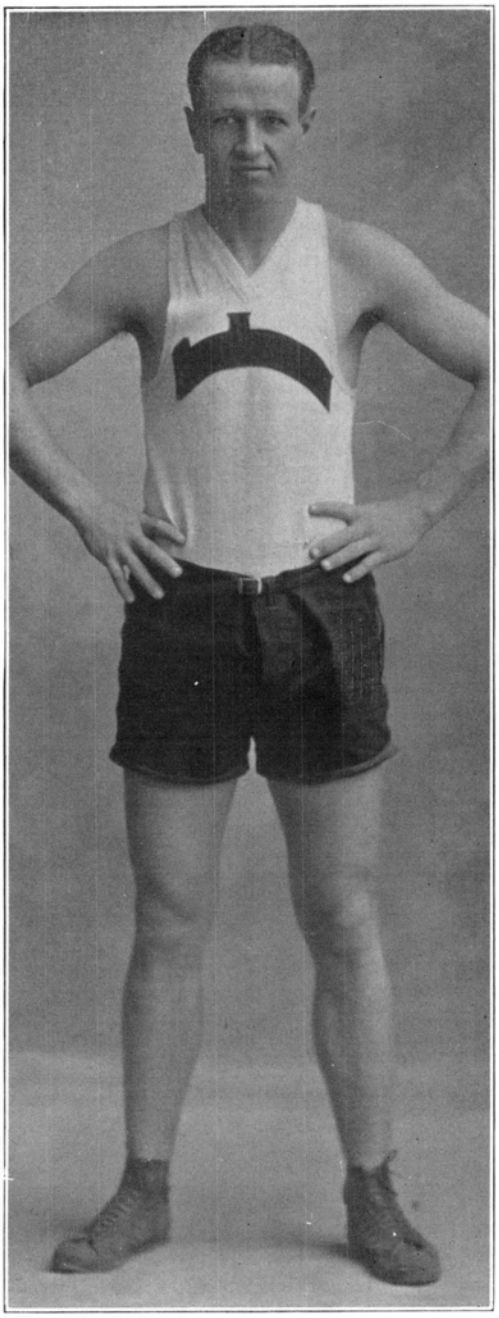

The yearlings put much time and interest in the work and as a result a fairly good freshman team was developed. Upon this squad was placed the responsibility of making the Varsity Team what it is, as no team can be good unless they have good stiff opposition in practice. They took the battering in order that Northern's Polar Bears might be well prepared to invade the camps of our rival institutions.

Ray Baum was elected skipper of the Frosh Squad and ably piloted the team to a very successful season. As a fitting tribute to those who gave their time and energy that Northern might have a good team, eighteen members of the yearling squad were presented with sweaters at the close of the season.

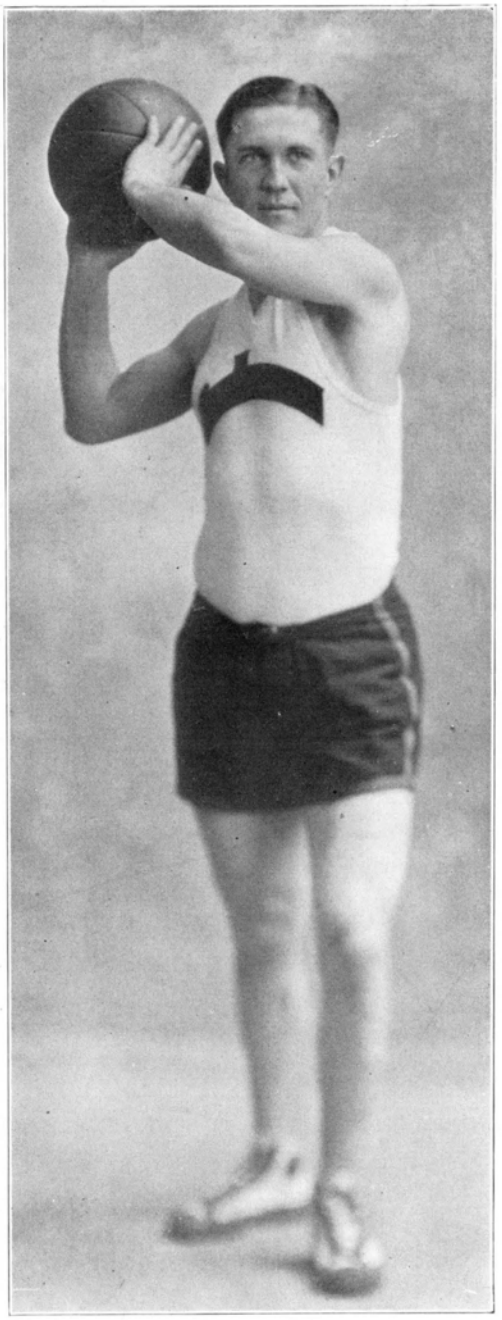

To Coach Sharer goes the honor of taking a bunch of practically green men, and by hard work developing a team in a few weeks that any coach would be proud of.

Plenty of men of varsity calibre were uncovered on the Frosh squad and should develop into good gridiron material and it is hoped next season they will be fighting for the Orange and Black.

REVIEW OF BASKETBALL SEASOS

Coach Newton called for basketball men the first of December and many men responded. Among this number there were only three veterans of the previous season : Capt. Haley, Lynch and Dickson. Coach Newton was confronted with the task of breaking in a number of inexperienced men to fill the vacant positions. Shelley, former Ada High star, Garman, star from Cleveland, and Anspach from St. Louis Military Academy all proved their ability as basketball men. After the holidays Cliff Kershner reported for practice. He added much strength to the quintet as he had played a stellar role in the season of 1922-23.

The Polar Hear quintet opened the season with four pre-conference games. The first was with the fast Lima Bantas, made up of former college stars. The Norsemen played a good brand of basketball with plenty of fight and captured the long end of the score, 23-13. Lynch was the outstanding star, getting 10 of the 23 points. Haley and Anspach stood out in the guard positions always receiving the ball off the backboard.

Northern lost the second game of the season to the Firestone Rubber quintet

on the Akron floor by a score of 28 to 20. The Northern Cagers started out strong, Garmon and Dickson each getting two field goals the first ten minutes. The Non-Skids were baffled the first half by Northern's neat passing and fast floor work. The Firestone defense tightened up the second half, tied the score and forged ahead. They took all the breaks of the game and had an 8 point lead at the end of the second period. Score 28-20.

In a game that was fast from start to finish the Polar Bears went down to defeat before the speedy Ashland team. The visitors were in rare form and dropped them through the basket from all parts of the floor. The Bears had trouble finding the basket and were unable to hold the Ashlandites in check. The game ended with a score of 42-21.

The last pre-conference game was lost to Antioch by a score of 33 to 24. This caused the Norsemen fighting blood to rise and they won their first conference game over Miami. Northern started the game with a bang. Garman, Dickson and Kershner were the chief score getters, Kershner breaking through the defense and copping 9 points while Dickson and Garman each made 8. Final score 29 to 21.

Next came Wesleyan with the same old jinx. The game was full of thrills but Northern was never able to gain a lead. Dickson was the high point getter, rolling in 10 out of the 26. Score 36-26.

The Norsemen had a slump and lost the next four games to Mt. Union, Ohio University, St. Xavier and Capital. The men had difficulty in finding the basket but at all times showed the Northern fighting spirit.

The next home game was with Heidelberg. The Bears were in good form and started off fast and furious, Shelley starting the scoring. Garman was the high point getter in this game, coming through with 14 and Dickson following with 9. Heidelberg was completely outplayed throughout the entire game. The game ended with the Polar Bears victorious by a score of 38 to 20.

The season ended in a blaze of glory when we downed the University of Cincinnati. The game was a real thriller with the lead changing several times. The game ended with the Bears 2 points ahead, 28-26. Thus the last of the conference opponents were vanquished.

CAPT. HALEY

CAPTAIN FRANK HALEY

"Bart" as captain was an able leader for the team. He was a guard to be relied on whenever the ball came into Northern's territory. Bart's previous three years on the Varsity teams was a big factor in all his plays.

SHELLEY

LOUIS SHELLEY

"Lou" was able to use his height to a good advantage in out jumping his opponents. He had an eye on the basket at all times and made many points for the team. He is a man that will be a big factor on next season's team.

KERSHNER

CLIFFORD KERSHNER

"Cliff" was an exceptional speedy guard and with plenty of experience. He is a guard of the never-give-up type and certainly held down many points that might have been scored against Northern.

DICKSON

CLIFFORD DIXON

"Cliff" the captain-elect for next year is a fo.ward with a record. He has a sure eye on the basket and his long shots ran the points up for Northern. He could be depended on for a basket in any tight place. Under his guidance next year's team will have a real leader.

YOUNT

JOHN YOUNT

Yount is a new man that promises to be a comer. This season he played a remarkable game at both center and guard. He is tireless in action and a hard fighter. He will be a great asset to the varsity next year.

GARMAN

FRED GARMAN

"Freddie" at forward was in the right place at the right time in all the games. He was exceptionally good at one hand shots and many were the points he chalked up for Northern in all of these plays.

ANSPACH

BUD ANSPACH

"Bud" was an excellent guard and was in the center of the fight at all times. One can make no criticism of his playing for he was above par in all his games. No doubt he will be sure of another letter next year.

HAYDEN RAABE

Raabe at center was a valuable asset to the team. He is a tireless worker, always ready to learn new points on the game. We will be expecting a lot from him next year.

RAABE

LAW

JOHN LAW

"Johny" at forward played a good game. He had an eye for the basket and was a man that needed to be guarded at all times. He has two more season's with us and we predict a future for him.

Freshman Basketball

Wenning, Slibaugh, Camercn, Campbell.
Livingston, Roth. Capt. Cohen, Coach Roderick, Judkins, Hunter, Baum.
Lee, McElroy, Levin, Gerry, Manges, Brown, Lynn.

OUK FRESHMAN CAGE 'TEAM

When Coach Roderick of the Freshman basketball team issued a call for candidates nearly fifty would be yearlings responded enthusiastically. Many of these men were stars during their high school careers and were of the quality that were needed as the nucleus about which the present Freshman team was organized.

Perhaps never did a more promising outfit of Freshmen cage stars and incidentally, athletes of sterling quality in other sports as well, turn out. After weeding out his men, Coach Roderick began working out with the twenty odd men that he had chosen to represent the school and primed them for the scrimmage sessions with the varsity. He forced upon them the fact that they were to be the future varsity men of the University and that their conscientious endeavor to train well and adhere to the rules was to be a predominant factor in their chances to represent the Polar Rears in varsity competition. With this idea impressed on their mind, the men worked faithfully every day.

Coach Roderick will handle the varsity team next year and the hopes are running high on the campus that with these men to represent the school, everyone can look forward to seeing some worthwhile games with our boys on the top ring of the ladder all the time. Many of the critics who have seen the freshies in action against the Varsity maintain that the championship bunting will be won by Ohio Northern, and everyone who has seen these scrimmage games will verifv this opinion.

The majority of the first string men will be back in school next year. They are Capt. Cohen and Baum as forwards, Seeley at center, and Gary and Livingston at the guards. The others on the Freshman squad are: Lee, McElroy, Dolin, Manges, Brownie, Hunter, Judkins, Wenning, Silbaugh and Cameron.

Flatiron Basketball Team

INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

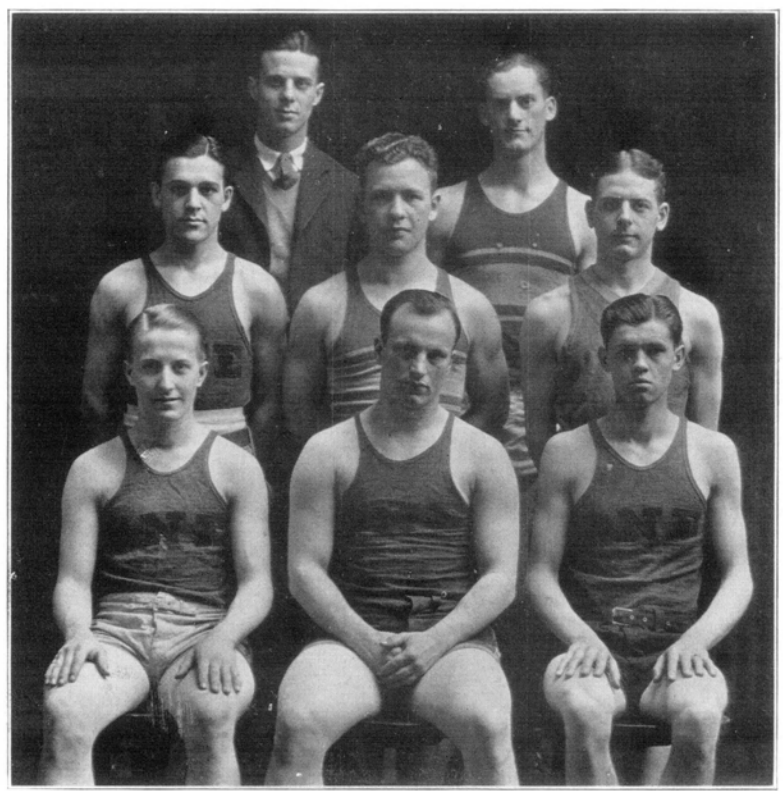

Smith, Silbaugh.
Lee, Long, McElroy.
Judkins, Campbell, Wenning.

The Flatiron Five featured the season by its irregular playing. This caused the games at all times to be interesting. They started the season by defeating the Chemical Engineers in a fast game 17 to 16. Next, they romped over the American Legion for a 38-0 win. Following this they played the Tappa Nus in what proved to be one of the best games of the season. The final score was 18-7 in favor of the Flatirons. Next the Menorah Club was defeated, the score being 24 to 9. In this game the Flatirons showed good form from start to finish. Then, the Newman Club was defeated 14 to 3. On the first play the Irons scored. The next team to bow to the Champions was the Pennsylvania Club with a score of 29 to 6. Then followed one of the most important games, the opponents being the New York Club. Both teams seemed determined to win but the Flatirons nosed the New Yorkers out 7 to 6. In the final game for the championship of the Intramural League the Flatirons won over the T. N. E.'s with the close score of 10 to 9. Campbell was the hero of the game as he clinched the Championship in the last minute of play with a difficult shot. Smith at guard used his height to a good advantage.

Metals were given the victors in honor of the successful season they went through.

T. N. E. Basketball Team

Fraternity League Champions

Coach Lynch, Sweeney.
Bertels, Mattie, Boulton.
Brown, Livingston, Manges.

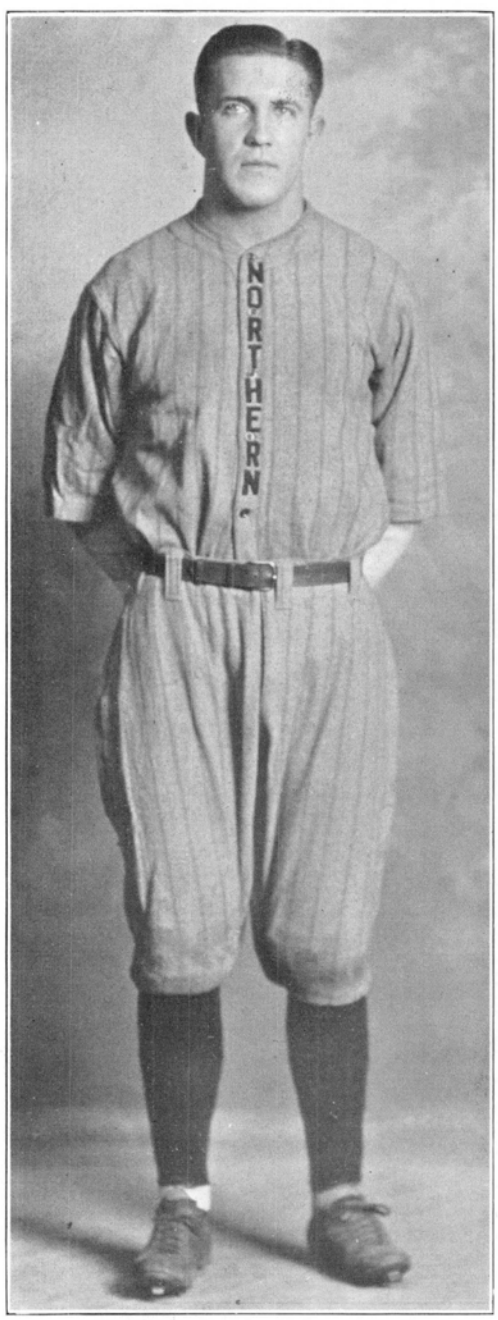

The fraternity basketball league was brought to an end with Theta Nu Epsilon in the foremost position. The season was characterized by clean playing, sportsmanlike spirit of the players, and close scores. Large enthusiastic crowds witnessed every session of play and cheered vigorously for their favorites.

The Theta Nu team deserves much credit for its victory because of rigid opposition. The most pronounced quality of the victors was their exceptionally good pass-work. They showed an ability far superior to most campus teams in working the ball into the basket. Their defense work was quite above the mediocre also. It would be unjust to choose from the Theta Nu team any particular star because every man was a vital part of the organization. A condition such as that, is worthy of commendation.

All the teams represented in the fraternity league were practically the same in individual ability. However Theta Nu Epsilon proved the more consistent aggregation.

Much credit is due Coach Roderick for the manner in which he handled the season. It is certain that everyone did their utmost to co-operate with him, which fact speaks well. The league afforded a splendid way for recreation and the whole student body looks forward to the next season.

Varsity Baseball--1924

Opening the '24 season with a bang, Northern defeated Denison 8 to 4. The game featured Bud Graybill's pitching, also Brookhart's home run. In the second game of the season Adler took the mound and made a good showing. This game resulted in the defeat of Oberlin 11 to 2. Adler succeeded in knocking a home run and bringing in Bolster. The second homer was made by Fallquist. The men in these games showed they were improving in form, and the hopes of the student body was running high.

In the next two games the Rears were nosed out by one run in each contest. In the tilt with Wooster Northern led until the last when Wooster bunched some hits that put them in the lead. At Ashland with Carpenter pitching we managed to gain a small lead in the beginning of the game hut were unable to hold it. The game ended with Ashland on the long end of a 4 to 3 score.

The second game with Oberlin, played at Oberlin, Northern lost by a single run. The remainder of the season Northern played a good grade of ball but was unable to keep in the lead. The team at ail times showed the old fighting spirit and the players deserve much credit.

1925 SEASON

As the Annual goes to press only one game of the '25 season has been played. This resulted in a loss of 9 to 7 in favor of Ohio Wesleyan. The game is far from a prediction for the season as our infield this year is strong with a good line of hitters present. Carpenter has not yet had a chance in the box and he will no doubt make a good showing. Northern's hopes are running high for a successful season which we know will be theirs.

"SUNNY" WINTERS

"Sunny" came to us from Ohio Wesleyan where he had a record of being one of their best athletes. He pitched ball for them two years and was the main factor in helping them take the championship in 1922. Later he played semi-professional ball and later played organized ball in Class B. "Sunny" as coach, will no doubt be a big asset to Northern's team this season.

Track Squad

Lanning, Matheny, Manges, Saunders, Clark, Herring, Bowers, McHenry, Boyer, Sharp, Cleavenger.

Swindler, Young, Long, Heft, Eighmy, Yant, Stotter, Mathews, Wolfe.
Jiggs—Mascot.

VARSITY TRACK

Although Track is yet in it's infancy at Northern, it is making great advances to prove itself one of our leading major sports, and in the near future we may be assured a team that will prove a great asset to our Alma Mater.

A winning track team cannot be built in a year. With the development of the new varsity and freshman material, great results may be expected. Much credit is due to Coach Claude Sharer for his untiring efforts in coaching individuals as well as the team as a whole.

At the beginning of the season Walter Eighmy was elected captain and Bart Swindler as manager. Meets were scheduled with Denison, Bluffton, Otterbein and Heidelberg.

At the time of writing it is somewhat uncertain as to the exactness of the men in each event, but a very close estimate may be assumed.

Kershner and Heft are the most likely 100 yard men and will prove a likely combination.

Bertels, Eighmy, Overmyer and Yant are contesting for the 220. Bertels and Overmyer are new varsity men and are doing exceptionally well.

Eighmy and Lanning or Jackson will run the high hurdles. Eighmy is a sure point scorer in this event. Many seconds may be expected from Lanning or Jackson.

Matheny, Sharp and Heft are the most promising quarter-milers. Sharp is showing fine form and should win many points for Northern.

Eighmy and Bertles will run the 220 yard low hurdles, and from all indications this will be a winning combinaton.

Saunders, Martiny, Yount and Fredericks look the best in the mile run. Although this is Saunder's first year he is showing good form.

Jones and Yount or Lee will be the men chosen for the two-mile run.

Bertles and Kattman will be the broad jumpers and both are developing rapidly.

The weight men who seem the most promising are Boyer, Kershner, Haley, Haase, Long and Layman.

The high jump will be divided between Shelly, Cleavenger and Clark.

With this varsity representation, Northern may expect a winning team, and each man will improve as the season progresses.

FRESHMAN TRACK

The Freshman Track Team this year has some of the best prospects that we have ever had. The most outstanding men are: Manges, Maloney, Judkins and Cameron.

Manges has already broken three track records: mile, half-mile and two-mile. He should cause considerable trouble in the Big "6."

Maloney, who hails from Buffalo, New York, has shown excellent form in the 220 and quarter-mile. He has tied the track record in the 220 and lowered the record in the quarter-mile by three-fifths of a second. Maloney should make good at the Big "6" Meet.

Judkins and Cameron are the mainstays of the frosh weight heavers. Each has performed well and they are sure point getters for next year.

Other freshmen who are prominent are: Matthews, 100 and 220; Anderson, mile and two-mile; Campbell, weights and jumps; Silbaugh, jumps, pole vault and hurdles; and Seeley, high and low hurdles.

Coach Sharer has been engaged as Track Coach for the next year. With the splendid co-operation that he is now receiving, Northern students and alumni may look forward to one of the best track teams in the state within a few years.

1925 Track Schedule

May 9	Otterbein	At Westerville
May 26	Heidelberg	At Ada
May 23	Bluffton	At Ada

DAVIS

CLAIRE DAVIS

Football Manager

As a manager of the football outfit, Davis rendered valuable service to the team. He gave a great deal of time to the men and was always there when needed.

AGUSTUS J. LANNING

Basketball Manager

"Gus" as manager of basketball was there with the goods. He tried his best to give all the conveniences possible to the basketball men. A better manager would have been hard to find.

LANNING

JENKINS

"TED" JENKINS

Baseball Manager

"Ted" is on the field every night looking out for the needs of the team. He, with the help of his assistants, have kept the diamond in fine shape, and he has handled all the equipment in fine style.

BART SWINDLER

Track Manager

Bart, since he was chosen track manager has proven his worth. Northern's track is in a fine condition due to his efforts. All the needs of the track men are taken care of under his supervision.

SWINDLER

Managers at Northern

Very little is ever said about the part that the managers play in varsity sports. Too few people realize that theirs is a great deal of work with little appreciation. They have to spend as much time attending to their duties as the men engaged in the actual sports. We have developed at Northern a system of choosing managers that applies to every major sport. Each manager has two assistants that help him throughout the season, and the best assistant is chosen for the following year as manager by the athletic association. This developes a rivalry that in turn gives efficient managers. Each manager is given the varsity letter and is eligible for membership in the Varsity N and is also a member of the Athletic Association during his particular season.

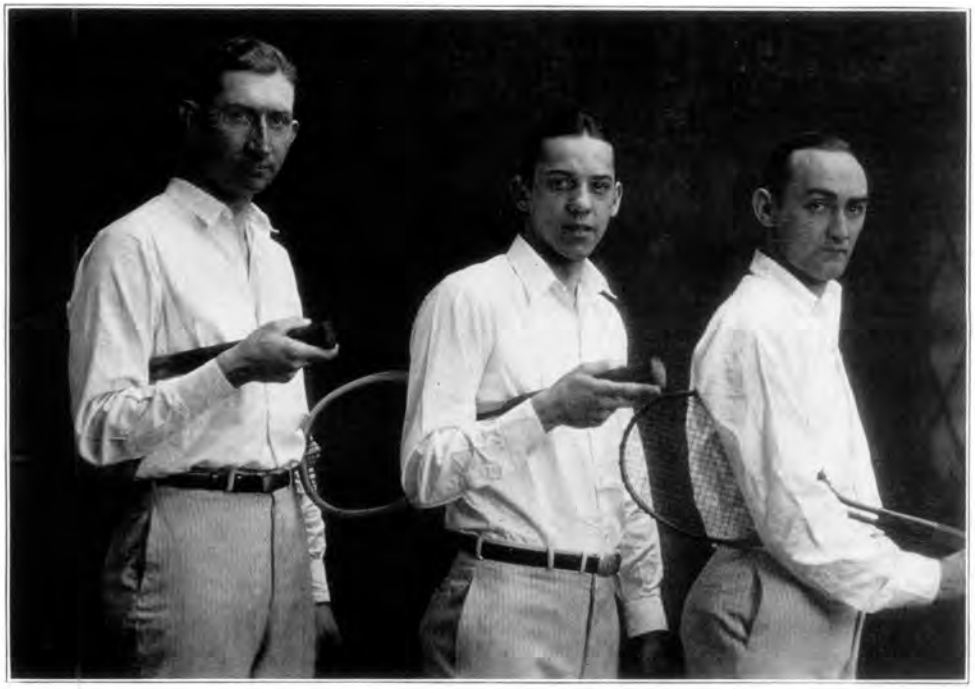

This year has given us four mighty good managers, namely: Davis for football, Lanning for basketball, Swindler for track, and Jenkins for baseball. Each one of these men have devoted valuable time to each respective team and have certainly won all the appreciation we can possibly give them.

Cheer Leaders

A cheer leader is chosen by the student body primarily on account of his ability to lead the student body in voicing their spirit. The more active the cheer leader the more noise from the student body. This past year Dave Haynes and his able assistants were able to produce noise in volumes never before heard in Ada. Visitors at some of our games were as much interested in the outward expression of the student body spirit as they were in the game. On retirement of Haynes the students elected Vroman to lead them for the coming year and he has shown that the selection was indeed a good one.

Tennis

Solomon, Carlyle, Kelley.

The popularity of tennis the world over was reflected by its introduction into Northern's sport curriculum in the spring of 1924. On the whole the season was quite successful. About twenty men answered Coach Newton's call, and from this wealth of material the team was selected. Solomon (Captain), Kelley, Carlyle and Eldridge defended Northern in the major contests.

Due to spring rains regular practice was almost impossible. For the same reason a heavy schedule was not attempted. Only three matches were slated, and one of these had to be cancelled because of the intervention of Jupiter Pluvius.

The set-to with Otterbein, on May 9, resulted in a 2-1 defeat for us. Both single matches were dropped but Kelly and Solomon copped the doubles encounter. Later in the season Otterbein defeated us 3-0 on our own courts.

The Heidelberg match, at Tiffin, was the one stopped by rain. Due to a constant downpour, the courts were in a hopeless condition and the team returned to Ada with record unsullied.

Our other victory came with a win by Eldridge in a singles match in the contest with the Martins Ferry Athletic Club. This was our sole triumph in singles throughout the year.

While the season does not show a string of victories, there is little to regret. Lack of practice and experience of course have left their mark on the season's record. The record shows also, however, that ground has been broken, that a foundation has been laid on which a formidable and successful organization may be developed. Considering that this was the first attempt at tennis here, a surprising interest has shown itself in a sport from which Northern may expect to gain added prestige in years to come.

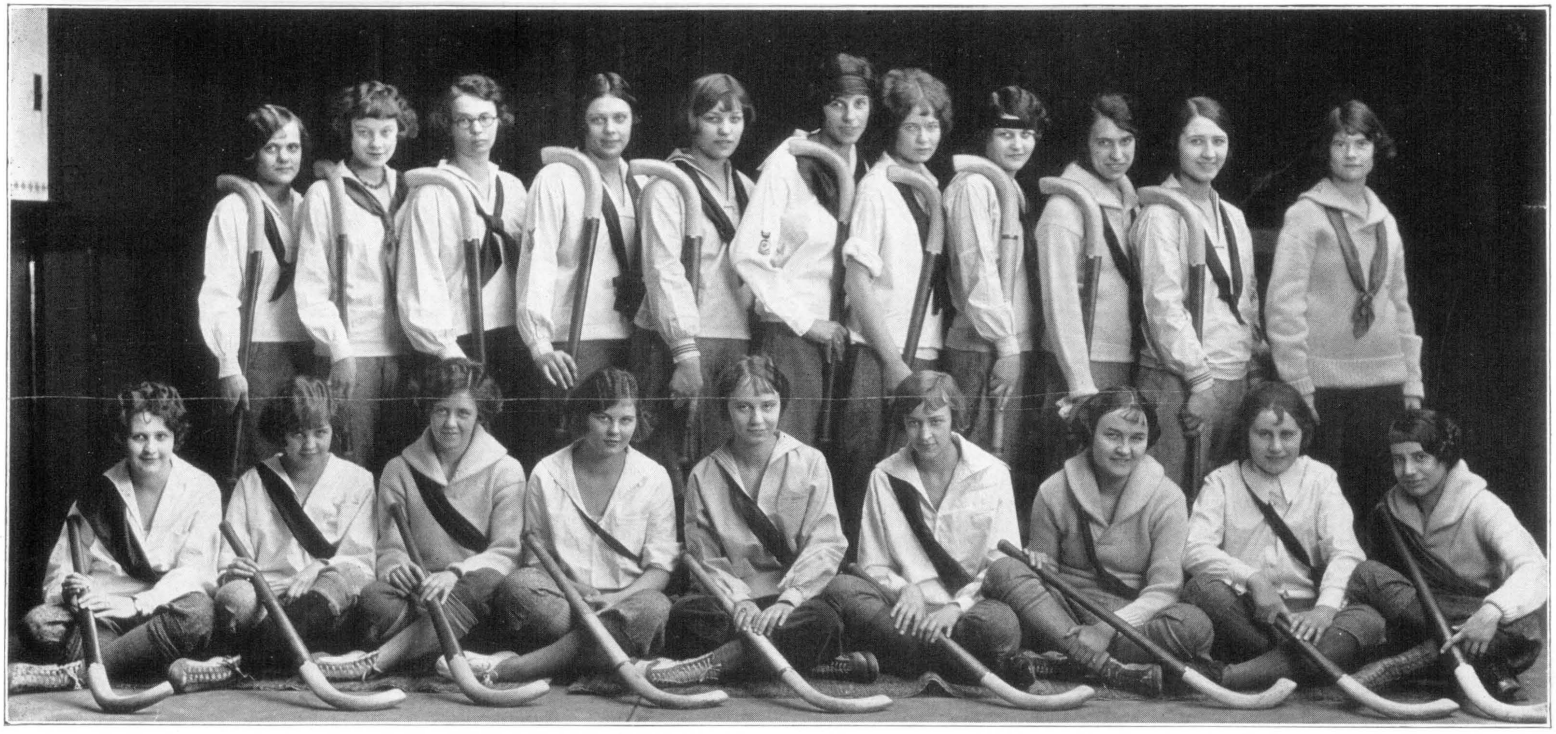

Kalp Holt

VERLE-MARIE HOLT

In her second year as instructor in physical education for women, Miss Holt developed that branch of the department to a great degree, placing girls' athletics in a position of prominence. Miss Holt has had six years experience as instructor on the playgrounds of her native city of Indianapolis, a system of public playgrounds which without question is unrivalled in the United States. While engaged in that work, Miss Holt was coach of the women's indoor baseball team which won the city championship in 1923. This year she coached hockey and baseball teams here and next year plans to extend even further the scope of girls' athletics. In addition to her coaching work, Miss Holt conducts classes in gymnasium work, esthetic dancing and playground games and coaching work for prospective teachers.

MARY KALP

Miss Kalp has completed her second year as gymnasium assistant for women, and she has proven herself a worthy assistant and coach. She has ably assisted Miss Holt in developing that branch of the Department of Physical Education—placing girls' athletics in its present position. Her work this year consisted largely of supervising hikes for the gymnasium classes, acting as an instructor in gymnastic exercises, and aiding as an assistant with the office work. Miss Kalp has been one of the factors responsible for the success of the program of physical development for women.

Forney, Wieble, Owens, Cooney, Hoover (Capt.), Rumbaugh, Liggett, Betz, Tate, Wilson, Holt.
England, Duckworth, Hussey, Tedlie, Newton (Capt.), Perfect, Porter, Welling, Kalp.

Girls' Hockey

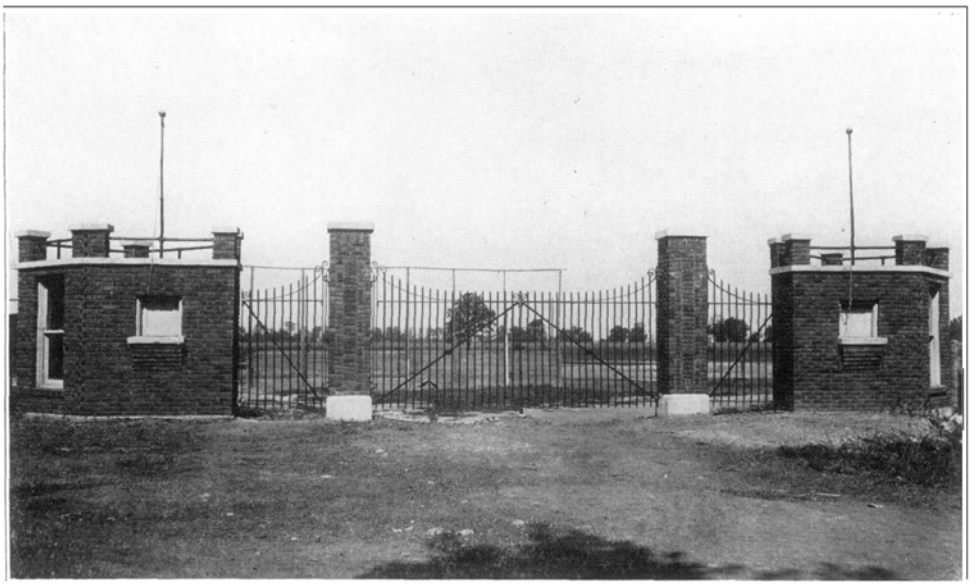

For the first time in the history of Ohio Northern, organized girls' athletics took their place in the school schedule with the advent this year of a girls' hockey team. The team was organized and coached by Miss Verle-Marie Holt, head of the department of physical education for women, who has had extensive training in girls' athletics and gymnasium work of all kinds.

When the call for candidates was made last fall about 30 girls responded. After a few weeks of preliminary instruction in the gymnasium the new hockey clubs came and practice was started on the field. Then two full teams were chosen, and captains elected. The captains were Miss Margaret Newton and Miss Marjorie Hoover, and the teams decided to call themselves after their captains, thus, they became the Newtonians and Hooverians. A regular schedule of games was arranged and much interest was evidenced, especially among the girls of the school, in this new sport. In the series of games, the Newtonians won three games to two for the Hooverians. Practice days were three a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and when not playing regular games the girls either practiced or took hikes. The playing continued until Thanksgiving time.

In March the playing was resumed and next year a regular schedule of games will be played, with a possibility of developing a university team to compete with other college teams. Several star players have been developed in this year's play and much interest has been evidenced by the girls.

Another branch of girls' sport that has been introduced by Miss Holt is indoor baseball. Regular teams were formed this spring and many exciting games played. Miss Holt was both organizer and coach of these teams. The baseball will be continued throughout the summer.

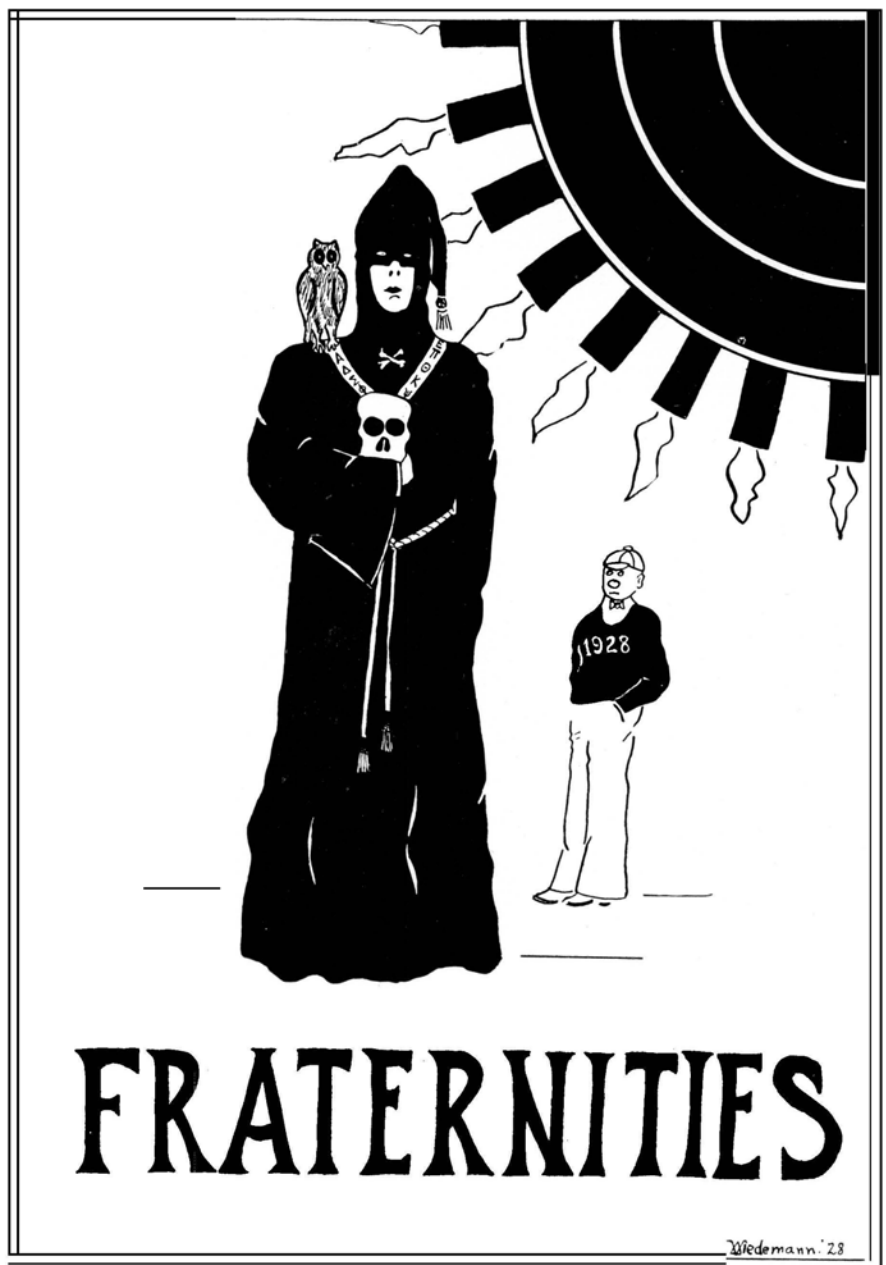

GATEWAY TO ATHLETIC FIELD

In Conclusion

Northern has just completed a successful year in the field of athletics. We have taken knocks and given them; we have had breaks against us and we have had them with us. All in all the year that is past, can go down in history as one that has advanced Northern's prestige in all parts of the Ohio Conference. Each year Northern is stepping to the front as a college that turns out teams of a high calibre. All of our athletes and managers as well as coaches, faculty and student body have given their best to bring victory and credit to Northern. Knockers are rapidly becoming a thing of the past as each person catches the spirit that he has an active part in Northern's program. Our athletic ideals aim toward the building up of strong virile bodies and manly character. In actual games our teams have tasted both defeat and the glory of winning. When we have lost we have not been down-hearted for we know that we have put up a fight. Every game that our teams have entered, has been predominated by the Northern spirit that cannot be put down. The summary of the whole year can be written in one word, SUCCESS.

OFFICERS

Prof. H. J. Weber	Chairman
Vernon Weygandt	Secretary
Russel Kear	Treasurer

The Pan-Hellenic Council in the past few years has taken its stand with all the other potential organizations on Northern's campus. The primary purpose of its organization was to take cognizance of and govern all inter-fraternal relations. To this end it has been highly successful. Besides this original purpose it has branched into other activities in the interest of Northern's campus life. A plan has been adopted whereby a loving cup is given to the fraternity having the highest average of grades for a quarter. The fraternity winning this cup the greatest number of times in three years or winning it three times in succession shall retain it permanently. The Council has also initiated a movement toward class distinction on the campus. Plans have been made for the composing and adopting of a 'Code of Freshmen Rules' to go into effect at the beginning of the next fiscal school year.

In the social life of the campus the Council has been very active. During "Homecoming Day" in the fall quarter it was arranged through the Council that each fraternity keep open house for the entertainment of returning "Old Grads." A program was also given for their benefit—each fraternity presenting a short act. The annual Inter-fraternity Smoker was given during the spring quarter—entertainment being furnished by the enacting of stunts by each fraternity. The Football Banquet at the end of the fall quarter was given by the Pan-Hellenic Council in conjunction with the Varsity "N" Association to honor the members of the squad for their deeds of valor on the field.

It is to be hoped that the Pan-Hellenic Council will continue to function as it has in the past. Everyone is ambitious for a bigger Northern and a better campus life. The Council is the organization leading the field in accomplishing this end.

At the beginning of the Winter Term the Club took over the management of a Club House and due to the efforts of the eighteen Brothers residing there, it has been made a success and a real benefit to the Club.

The continued growth in membership of the Club, since its birth in 1921, proves that Northern is not forgotten when the boys are back in the home state, and that in a short time the New York Club will be one of the largest on the Campus.

The Frat Pin

He wore his college frat pin
Just southward from his heart,
And vowed that from its resting place
That pin should ne'er depart.
Years that passed still found him
Firm and standing pat,
Still wearing his college frat pin
In honor of his frat.
One day blue eyes confused him,
His high resolve took chase,
A soft voice coaxed the frat pin
From its old abiding place;
They're now in a little bungalow
With "Welcome" on the mat,
And the frat pin? Fastens baby clothes
In honor of his frat!

Very True

"Mine is no idle tale," said the pledge as he leaned over for another whack.

With graceful feet a maiden sweet,
Was tripping the light fantastic,
When she suddenly tore for the dressing room door—
You never can trust elastic.

First Burglar—Wher ya been?
Second Burglar—In a fraternity house.
First Burglar—Lose anything?

Jimmy—"Is Lynch a loud dresser?"
Eldridge—"Is he? Say you'd ought to hear him hunting for his collar button."

Last Warning

The way of a man and the way of a maid
When stars spatter over the skies,
Tend to form dreams, and Elysian schemes,
While walls of Air Castles arise.

The night and the stars build castles in Spain,
Which are never completed alone
My boy here's a plaque. Remember your back—
"Some one has to carry the stone."

WHY'S A CHAPEL

By Millicent Warren

And the class! Joey College
Raised his eyes unto his Prexy,
Raised them in collegiate wonder
Saying to himself, "'Tis Prexy—
Why must I sit here and suffer
With these squaws and warriors scattered
Each in his respective seat sits
In this great resounding chapel?"
Enter girls in silken stockings
Laughing, talking, without ceasing
Both in whispers and in murmers
Laughing, talking, each to others.
See the co-eds far outnumbered
Glad it is so—not so lonesome,
Powdered faces, pretty graces,
Look they upward, backward, forward
Each with girlish satisfaction.
"Why this chapel, Prexy, mia "

And with wisdom Prexy answered
(Though he heard not Joseph's question)
"This, my students, is a chapel
Seekers here of all true wisdom
Come to gather every morning.
Come to gather knowledge ever
That in turn the! may impart it
To the younger men and women
To the heedless young papoose".
Who will fill our schools and hallways.
Come here too. the pharmics sheiky,
Come here too, the lawyers cheek! ,
Engineers in garments freak!
Gather at this fount of learning
To imbibe the whys and wherefores
Of their future occupations.
Now you all must not like children
Prattle, chatter, laugh and snicker,
For I say it ain't good manners
That young college folks should jabber
In a place as stern as this is.
When your President is talking
'Tis for you to sit and listen
You should keep respectful silence
Mine, the clear articulation.

'Then the class!. Joey College
Lost himself in meditation
Hesitated for a moment,
Thought again for sixty seconds
After which he punched the fellow
Who was sitting next to him, "Dumbbell,
Yonder stands a stalwart warrior
On a platform he is standing.
I suspect that he is talking
Speaking with gesticulation.
Yet I hear no word he utters;,
Hear no word, no phrase nor sentence.
Tell me pray, good college laddie.
What the deuce does he think he's doing
Why should he persist and try to Interrupt the conversation?"

And the other fellow answered
(For he'd been to Northern longer)
"Young man, that is only Prexy
He who towers above all others
In great speeches here each morning
For we're one and all assembled.
Yes, at first it is annoying
When the platform speaker chooses
Our bright sayings not to notice,
Hut amid collegiate gabbing
He should try to get a word in,
And should try in language noisy
Confusion add to what already is."

Then the figure on the platform
Raised his powerful arms toward Heaven
And in accents clear and vibrant

WHY'S A CHAPEL—Continued

Called upon the powers above us.
But Joe College only wondered
While the students all about him
Stood in bored and slouching stillness,
Stillness but for noisy coughing
Stillness but for covered whispers
Stillness but for many footsteps
Like the sound of many waters
Coming down the chapel floor.
" 'Tis the late ones," said his neighbor
"Only that and nothing more."

When at last the prayer was over
And confusion reigned once more
Suddenly upon the platform
Limping, a fine and dignified man,
He with reddened beard did speak then,
He with solemn mein did read then
From the little slips before him,
"Notice Seniors you are wanted
After chapel now to stay.
Notice Tom and Dick and Harry
You're to do the same today.
Lost, a bar pin. Found a French book.
Wanted: man to do some work.
Meet today Y. W. cabinet.
Don't forget those Senior dues.
Please meet now all Press-Club members.
Glee-Club will not sing today.
Engineers must hand in drawings.
De Molay will all please stay."
On and on the voice did utter
Words and words and words and words,
Till our hero was quite stricken
With all that he had tried to hear.

Then the friend who sat beside him
Punched young Joey in the ribs
And in accents sweet and honeyed
Said these words into his ears,
"Youngster, let's not wait the ending
Of this morning's ceremony
For the attendance has been taken
And as we sit near the door
We can make a hasty exit
With no one the wiser more."
And Joe College willing, willing,
Followed him who led the way
Followed quickly through the doorway
Followed to the air without,
Patting there the dogs who waited
Small ones, large ones, thin and fat
And with wrinkled forehead pondered,
"What's the use of all of that?"

THE CYCLE

Acquaintance, friendship, love, engagement
Marriage, quarrels, ire, enragement
Lawyers, judges, something phoney
Verdicts, scandals, alimony.

Raymond Steele (after 4th date with Miss Cotner)—"Flossy, will you accept my 'frat' pin?"

Flossy (flutteringly)—"Yes."

Steele—"Would you mind telling me your last name?"

Incident of the Varsity Shop

(With Apologies to R. W. Service)

The boys were making merry
At Roscoe's Bar down town;
They tipped their pokes for sparkling cokes
And gaily drank them down.

The kid at the piano,
Was hitting a sock time tune.
Arid college gals with college pals
Rejoiced this night in June.

Now in a cozy corner
A youngster with cap of green.
Sat talking to Maud, the keenest broad
In the country—the campus queen.

He held her hand and whispered
Sweet nothings in her ear—
When out of the night and primed for fight
Maud's lover came in with a leer,

Have you ever felt the tension
Just before an awful storm—
When the skies are pale and the lightning's tail
Spreads a livid red arm?

Then you will know the feeling
That gripped the little room,
When straight to the nook with a murderous look
He strode. The freshman was doomed.

The crowd in terror at the sight
Dispersed in many ways,
I saw him stare, and I heard him swear,
And his eyes were in a blaze.

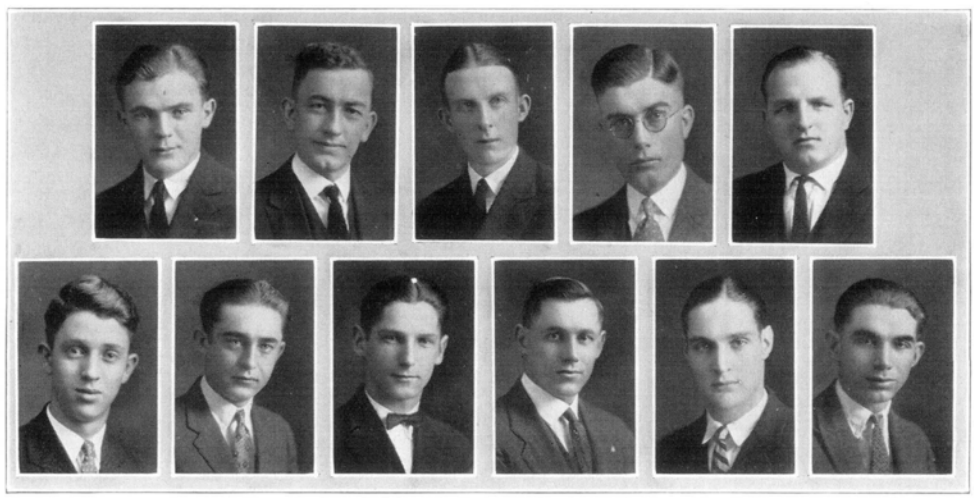

And now he spoke, and to the
Freshman said in voice not slight,
"You take these books straight home, gadzooks,
I'll take Maud home tonight."

The Engineers Executive Committee is a representative group, consisting of members from the four engineering societies. It has in charge the various features during the annual Engineers' Week which comes each year at the end of the Winter quarter. The week following Engineers' Week is inspection week and at this time the Engineers take their yearly pilgrimage to some great industrial center. This year the boys, accompanied by Dean Elbin, journeyed to Pittsburg and spent a very profitable week inspecting the great factories and industries of the "Smoky City."

The American Association of Engineers is an organization whose object is, primarily, the advancement of engineers as a profession and the promotion of the social and economic welfare of engineers.

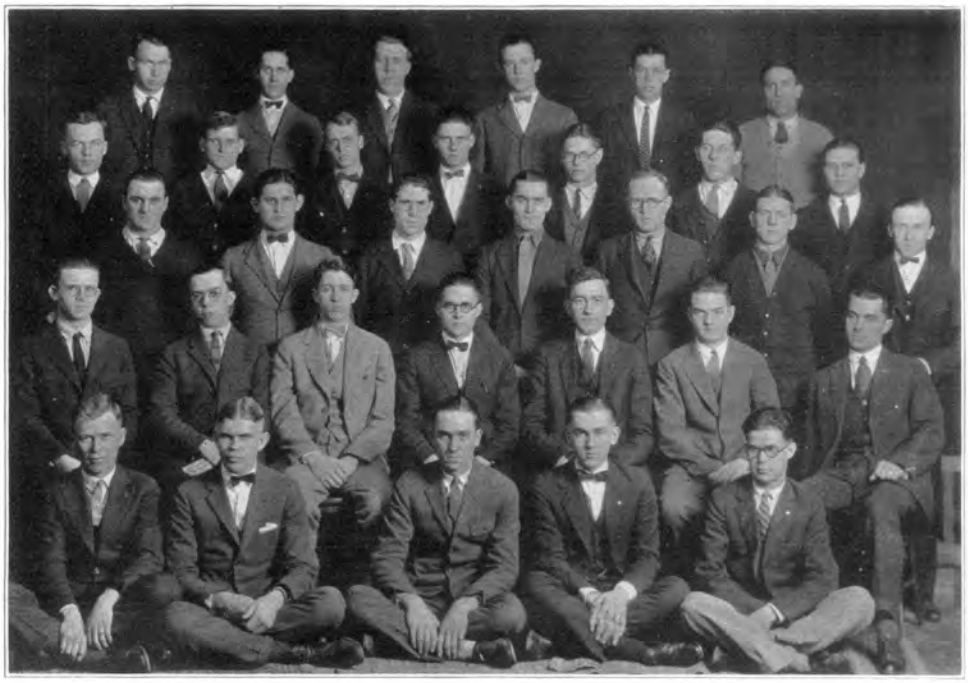

The Ohio Northern Chapter was established February 24, 1919. Since that time it has played a major part in the moulding of a professional interest and the promotion of a brotherly spirit among the engineering students on the campus. For that is what the A. A. E. stands for: Advancement through Co-operation.

The past year has been a successful one. With a membership which is steadily increasing in numbers, and maintaining their own club rooms, the Ohio Northern University Chapter of the Association is promised a bright future.

The Ohio Northern University chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers has had one of the most successful years since its organization in 1912.

The attendance is equal to any chapter in the country and the membership now numbers sixty-five.

Bimonthly meetings are held at which time technical talks are given and engineering topics of interest are discussed.

A seminar credit is given to all students attending eighty per cent of the meetings and appearing four times on the program during their college career.

To cultivate a feeling of good fellowship a number of smokers are held throughout the year. The members of the faculty are invited to attend these social events.

The Ohio Northern student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers began the year 1924-25 with Walter Reading as president and H. K. Day as vice president. Mr. Reading left school at the end of the fall quarter, having completed his course at that time. Mr. Day succeeded him as president and Mr. D. M. Cadwell was elected vice president. Mr. Day completed his course at the end of the winter term and took up a position with the Westinghouse Electrical and Manufacturing Company. Mr. Cadwell succeeded him and Mr. Henrahan was elected vice president.

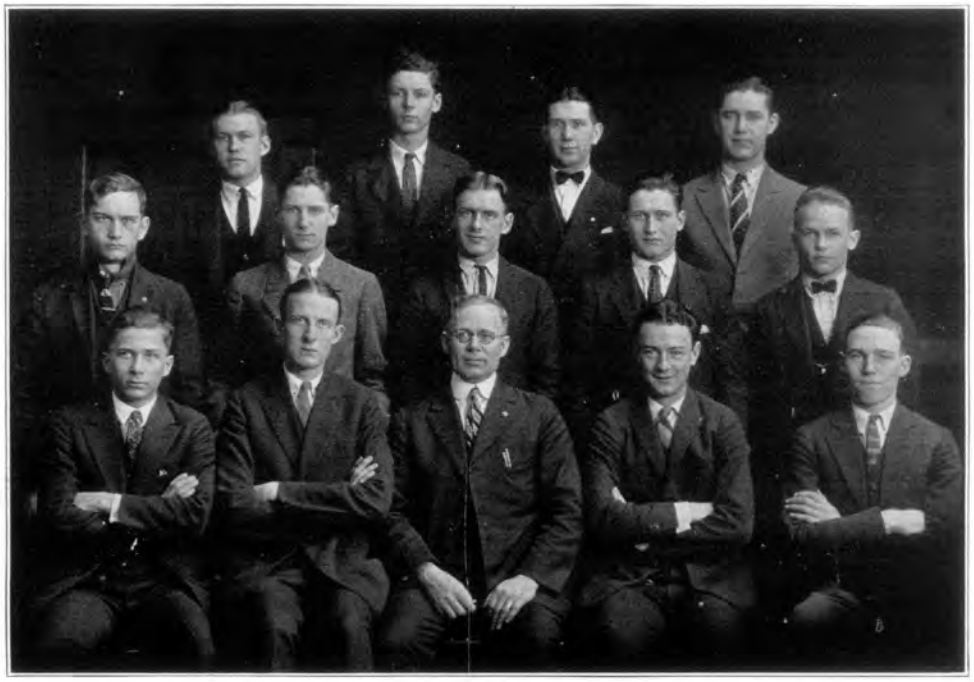

Beginning this year the seminar credit system was inaugurated in the society. Seminar credit is given to the members who present two papers before the society, provided that eighty per cent of the meetings have been attended. Two seminar credits will be required of all Mechanical Engineering students for graduation.

Through the efforts of Honorary Chairman Ivor S. Campbell, Dean Hitchcock of Ohio State University was secured during Engineering Week to deliver a lecture on the International Power Conference held at London, England.

The week of April 20th to 25th was set aside as National Oil and Gas Power Week, and the local chapter observed this by arranging a special program with Mr. Neiswander of the Buckeye Machine Company, Lima, as the main speaker. During the spring quarter an inspection trip was made through the Lima Locomotive Works at Lima, Ohio.

The society meetings are held bi-monthly and various phases of the mechanical industry are discussed in such a manner as to be of interest to all members.

Ohio Northern Society of Chemical Engineers

Moore, Bowers, McCann, Shappell.
Erb, Kennedy, Van Patten, Whittlesey, Runkle.
Allen, Kohlmeier, Sleesman, Detrick, Williams.

In 1919 a group of Chemical Engineering students felt the need of an organization to develop closer fellowship among those who were pursuing that course. Prof. Sleesman, head of the department of Chemical Engineering realizing also the need of discussion outside the classroom of industrial and research chemistry, called them together and they organized the Ohio Northern Society of Chemical Engineers. Although it is the youngest engineering organization on the campus, it is a live wire society and at each meeting various members report upon some industrial function which he has researched.

"Evangelization of the World in this Generation"

Students interested in missions make a special effort to create on the campus an atmosphere on the missionary spirit. Our efforts lie along the lines of personal work, posters, mission study classes, and the presentation of the field of missions in such a way that it challenges the best that is in any young man or woman. Our purpose for organizing is for mutual inspiration, to better fit ourselves for our future tasks and the better carrying out of the campus program.

Gospel team work in the University was led by our group. There were six teams sent out to various localities before the Holidays to assist in religious work. Besides a great help to ourselves our teams were a great inspiration to young people in the local communities that were visited. One team met with special favor in Toledo. Our president, Lloyd A. Chacey; vice president, John Stoll; secretary and treasurer, Paul Cramer, and gospel team leader, William Miller, all played their part in the good work.

The law of a king is Service,
And the kingliest serve the most.
Then ye who are sons of promise
And would royal lineage boast,
Get under the common burden—
Go help the fatherless sons,
And win the royal Gurdeon—
The thanks of comforted ones,
For the suffering are numberless
And the sorrowing are a host.
The law of a king is service,
And the kingliest serve the most.

After a year without a General Secretary, the Ohio Northern Y. M. C. A. again secured the services of a part time one in the person of Mr. Overholt.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets co-operated at the beginning of the year in the first annual All University Mix-up and Hello Day held the first Friday of the Fall Quarter. The Mix-up proved to be the largest social event of the year, over 500 men and women of the University attending. The Hello Day was carried out with a hearty spirit.

The weekly meetings were quite successful throughout the year, a number of prominent speakers being secured for them. The two christian associations also brought to the campus Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, world famed lecturer on social hygiene. A Freshman Advisory Council was originated and results should show themselves in the coming year. Considerable new furnishings and furniture were placed in the Y. room in Lehr during the year.

At the spring election F. A. Palmer was elected president; Donald Kempton, vice president, and Blake Hopkins, secretary. The new officers and cabinet are planning for a bigger and better program for next year.

This year ends with one of the most successful seasons for the Y. W. C. A. The meetings of the fall quarter opened with unusually large crowds of girls interested in the work of this inter-national Christian organization. With "Follow the Gleam" as the slogan and song the girls have attended the regular weekly meetings with faithful purpose. Credit is due the members of the program committee for planning the novel and altogether interesting programs for each term. This term, more than any other preceding year, has been in charge of the girls themselves with an acting chairman for each meeting and with Miss Grace Dickson as president.

Mention of the work of the Y. W. cabinet should not be overlooked. Every Monday evening at six o'clock a group of twelve girls with Mrs. Mary Whitted and Miss Carrie Wilson as advisors met to further the plans of the organization and to offer prayers for its success on the campus of Ohio Northern.

The great national purpose for the Y. W. C. A. this year has been "To live unreservedly on the campus Christ's law of love." The greatness of this purpose has had its effect and the year is closed with the feeling that young people are interested in the more serious things of life.

The Commercial Club of Ohio Northern University was reorganized in October, 1924, after several years of inactivity. The constitution of the old club was revised and adopted by the new organization. The purpose of the club is to give commercial students an insight into business problems and practices. Practically all students of the School of Commerce are members of the club and the experience they have gained by appearing on the programs has proven of great value to them. Meetings are held each week and much interest has been manifested by every member.

The club is a social organization, as well as educational, and parties were held at regular intervals during the school year.

An efficient corps of officers has been elected for next fall term and the members who will be back are looking forward to another year of activity.

Rrunner, Bitters, Pennington, Minion, Wm. Miller, S. Miller.

The Ohio Northern Homiletic Club was organized by S. Lee Whiteman, Jr. in the fall quarter of 1923. This organization is a continuation of a former club iounded by the Rev. S. Lee Whiteman, Sr.

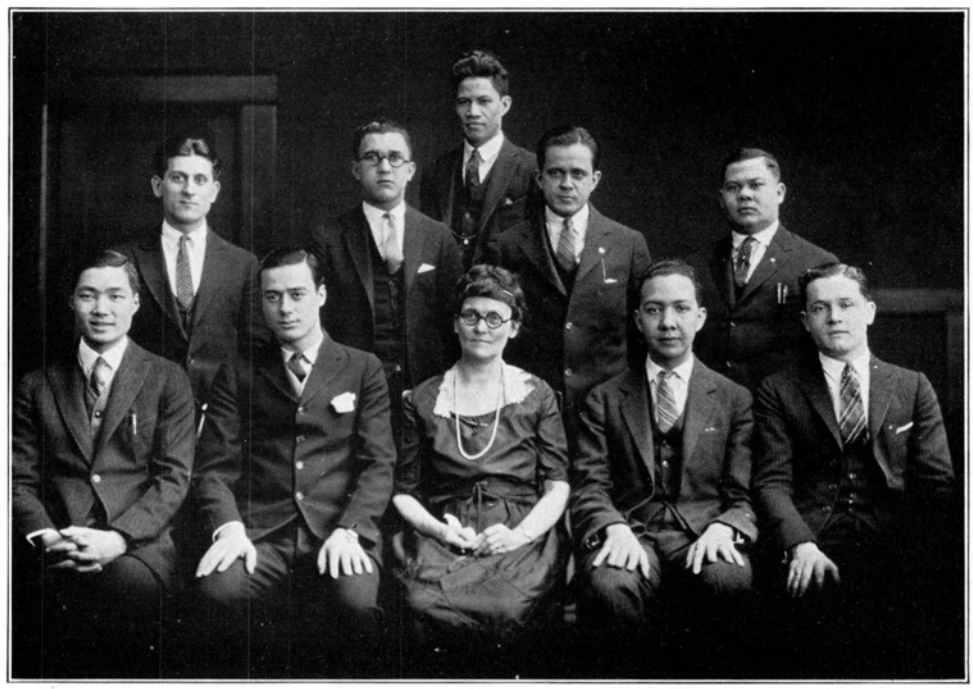

The purpose of the club is to promote the interest of the Christian Ministry, to encourage those students who have dedicated their lives to the uplift of humanity, and to promote the christian atmosphere in the university.

One phase of the work which has been very beneficial to the members during the year, and which will no doubt be even more outstanding in the future, is Gospel team work.

The officers for the past year have been: Presidents, Wm. Miller, S. A. Miller, J. Pennington and L. Chacey. The secretaries: J. Pennington, F. Rowe, P. Cramer and L. Driftmeyer.

Beyond doubt when this book reaches its readers the Homiletic Club will be affiliated with the Oxford Club of America.

International Club

Gumban
Del Bene, Otero, Acosta, Figueroa.
Lee, Lapollo, Davis, Cruz, Wolfe.

This club was organized at the home of Professor Davis, February 17, 1924, with the object of uniting for mutual benefit, students of all nationalities attending Ohio Northern University, and to promote international good-will and the brotherhood of man. Twenty-five per cent of the membership may be American. To be a member of the International Club means a broader outlook on the world, and helps to cement friendship between American-born and those of other nations. Excellent programs have been furnished this year by Professors and other talent on the campus. An International banquet is one of the features of Commencement time. The club aims to maintain an emergency fund to aid foreign students in time of need.

The spirit of the club is summed up in its motto: "Above all nations is humanity."

"Here is the place where East shall meet the West,
In joy and peace to seek and give the best;
A place where every man from every race and land
Shall find a home—a brother's helping hand."

Fine progress has been made by the Educational Association this year along many lines. A good professional spirit has been developed among those preparing to teach, and many of the most important current educational problems have been discussed at the meetings. The association has more than a hundred members, most of whom are very active in the work and deeply interested in the problems discussed. The organization meets each Thursday at four o'clock.

Some splendid talks were given by the professors in the University and by superintendents from the neighboring towns. Among the latter were Mr. Offenhauer, Superintendent of Lima; Mr. Loy, Superintendent of the Alger Schools; Mr. Crawford, Superintendent of the Ada Schools; Superintendent Clark of Kenton; and Bishop Henderson.

The association has brought to its members a fuller realization of the magnitude and far reaching possiblities of their profession. In the hands of the teacher lies the responsibility for the future citizenship of the nation.

This organization is represented by its many members in many parts of the United States, and consists of students in the college of pharmacy as well as members activily engaged in the practice of pharmacy, and others of fame in the realms of medicine and chemistry.

Primarily and essentially the function and purpose of this organization might be said to consist of the creation of the highest possible standards and ideals for the profession and to make possible a more extensive research into the history and problems of the Art of Pharmacy.

At the regular and special meetings there has been established that close personal contact which of necessity in this as in other professions, must be the medium whereby a better understanding can be brought about between the students, as the strength, growth, reputation and thus the ultimate success of the organization depends upon the individual and primarily his attention to such duties as are prescribed to uphold both the profession and the association. This year marks the fifteenth birthday of the organization and it has a roster consisting of nearly 1500 members, 150 of these being in universitate.

With the splendid co-operation of Dean Raabe and Prof. Hamsher, who are permanent presiding officers, and under the responsibile leadership and untiring efforts of the student officers, the organization has been able to make rapid strides toward the pinnacle of success. They well deserve to be commended for their work.

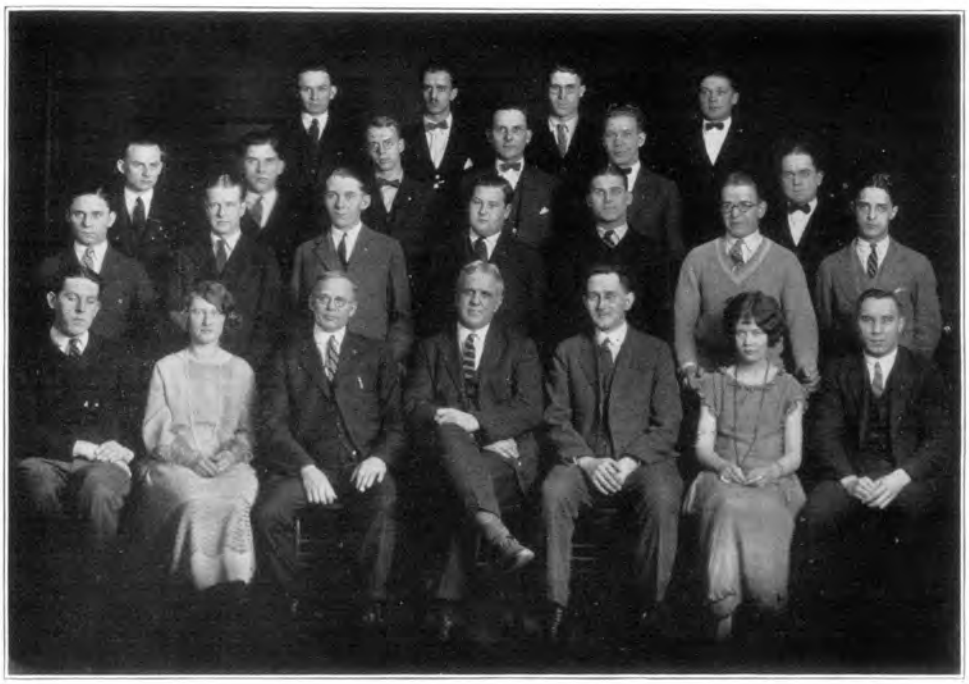

Under the auspices of the Association a series of lectures of benefit to the pharmacist were given, also several high class entertainments, and a trip of unusual merit to the Eli Lilly Drug Co. of Indianapolis, Ind.

Considerable credit is due the members of the Association for the success of the Annual Pharmacy exhibit, during which, a high quality of work was demonstrated.

The faculty and student officers of this year hope that all members will remember their immediate responsibility and that they will discharge their obligations with honor to themselves and their profession.

The Law Association was reorganized during the fall term and officers elected. The organization is composed of students in the College of Law and meets regularly to discuss topics of interest to the law student. A smoker which was well attended was held the latter part of September in the K. of P. hall. This proved to be quite a success as it afforded the seniors and juniors an opportunity to get acquainted with the new students.

During the quarter Moot Court was opened and regular meetings were held thereafter from which much benefit was derived in practice and court procedure. Under the auspices of the association many inspiring lectures were given by noted speakers including several Northern graduates.

The Ohio Northern Inter-Collegiate Debating Association arranged the longest schedule of debates with other universities and colleges this year in the history of the University. The varsity teams were composed of experienced debaters and they fought through the heavy schedule like real men. They engaged in a total of eleven inter-collegiate forsenic contests. Only three were held on the Ohio Northern campus, the majority being held in high school auditoriums throughout Northwest Ohio or on the home floor of the opposing team.

All debates were on the question, "Resolved that the United States and Canada should conjointly construct the St. Lawrence Deep Sea Waterway." Northern won forty per cent of the judges, but received the majority in only thirty per cent of the debates. Muskingum, the champions of the Ohio Inter-Collegiate Debating Conference, was the only team to defeat Ohio Northern on her home floor.

The Ohio Northern Girls' Glee Club is one of the most prominent musical organizations on the campus. Under the direction of Mrs. Johnson the club studied a number of noteworthy woman's choruses from the old masters and from modern composers. Twenty-three girls compose the 1924-25 glee who made a Spring tour to Oakwood, Forest, McGuffey, East Liberty, Kenton and Paulding. The good work of the officers and the co-operation of the girls helped make this season's glee club work most successful.

Northern Players, the dramatic association of the Ohio Northern University, has achieved a place of distinction in its few years existence. Each year the organization has increased in membership and enlarged its scope of activity, until at the present time it holds a place of decided recognition on the campus. This year there are over 80 members. Meetings are held weekly on Thursday night, and at these meetings varied programs of readings, dramatic sketches, and playlets are presented. Talks are given by members of the club and by Major Cliffe Deming, the director, and much is learned about the drama in these weekly meetings.

Northern Players

A College Town

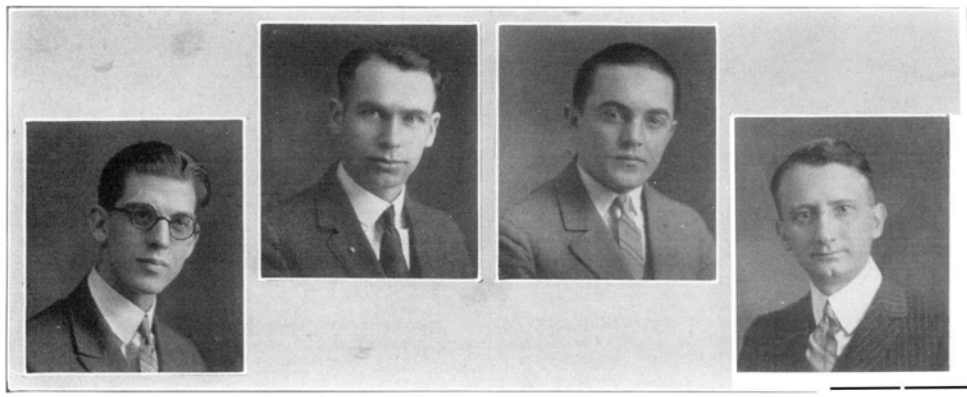

Though not many plays were produced during this year, those which were given were such decided successes that the Players felt entirely satisfied. The two plays presented this year were Green Stockings and A Collge Town, while Shakespeare's Twelfth Night is now in the course of preparation for the commencement play.

Green Stockings, the popular English comedy by A. E. W. Mason, was the dramatic hit of the season on the campus. Martha Cretors, Glenn Moore, and Andrew Hooley, the principals, carried their parts to perfection and the rest of the cast supported admirably. The play was presented to a large house in Lehr auditorium.

A College Town, Walter Ben Hare's farce, was played in Galion under the auspices of the high school in February. The play was very enthusiastically received by a crowded house. The following month it was presented in Lehr auditorium and was a great success. The play is screamingly funny from start to finish and made a great hit with the audience here. Ada Lowrie and George McNamara carried the leads very well.

As in previous years all of the dramatic direction is under the supervision of Major Deming, and much credit is due him for the success of the plays. Mrs. Deming has also given expert aid in decorating and in the stage settings.

THE ADELPHIAN QUARTET

Jones, Whiteman, Creps, Capell, Parks.

Adelphianism during the past year began to take on new life, and it's influence was felt on the campus as in former years, and perhaps to a more marked degree. The motto for the last four quarters has been, "Live up to Adelphian Traditions." Those who have been connected with the society can realize what this means when leaders such as Senator Frank B. Willis and other foremost men of today have preceeded us in literary work.

Unusual progress was made during the Summer Term with Mr. Othel J. Creps at the helm, guiding the Society's destiny with a steady hand. Many refreshing programs were rendered, and in such a spirit that the oppression of the Summer's atmosphere was forgotten.

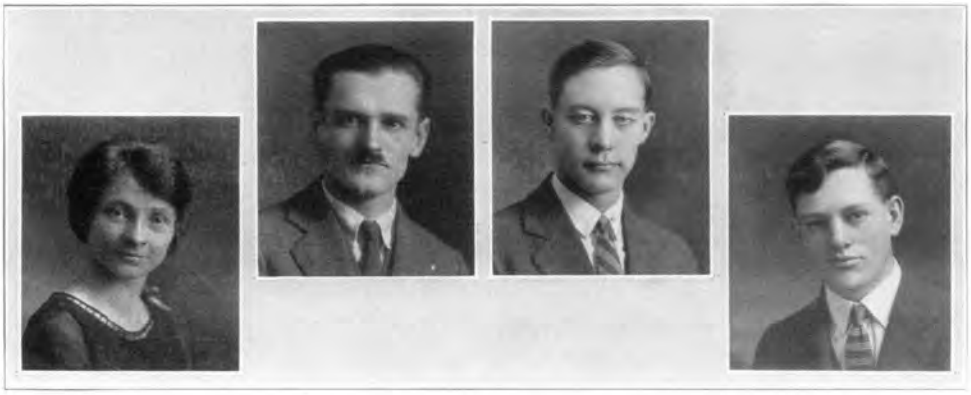

With the opening of school in the Fall, the Society started forth with an outlined program that awakened Adelphianism to a pace that she retained all year. Mr. Paul Funk, the president, engendered into the Society a weight of responsibility to which each member co-operated.

The interest continued to grow as the activities progressed leading into the Winter Quarter, while Mr. Arthur Sharp, the president, did not fail to make his influence felt. Programs that showed thought, study, and ability were characteristic of his labors.

At the beginning of the Spring Term, the Adelphian Orator, A. G. Whiteman, because of his worth as an administrator was elected to take up the reins of the Society. 'Forward' continued to be the policy as was outlined during the Fall Term. An outstanding factor in this regime was the Adelphian quartet. Unique programs were arranged such as lectures from noted men, varied quartet numbers, and numerous orations.

The year's work proved to be a conscious awakening force wherein our latent talents were more fully developed.

The Summer Term was indeed pleasant and profitable. Good snappy programs were given throughout the entire term. The mock trial given in the Court Room of the Law building was one of the outstanding features of the term. On several occasions the hall was packed showing that the students were pleased with the high grade programs that were rendered.

During the Fall Term new vigor was shown by the society, which had to work hard to equal the record made by a most successful summer. The Franklin Society continued to be the lawyer's literary organization, many embryo Marshall's signing up as Franklins.

The Winter and Spring Terms were also filled with enthusiasm. The Spring Term mixer was a delightful affair and well attended. The officers have been an important factor in making these terms such successful and enjoyable ones.

PHILO PEP characterized the Summer Term of 1924. Mr. Hardesty was the sort of engineer who believed in keeping his literary society to the highest rank in efficiency. The programs for the term were excellent, the crowds were interested, the society was a success.

PHILO PUSH added a large number of new members to the active roll throughout the Fall Term. Under the efficient leadership of Mr. Meredith there was fine cooperation among the officers and the members of the program committee which made possible a series of programs with quality as the keynote for each.

PHILO PRIDE not only maintained the former standards of literary success during the Winter Term, but added new thrills for literary folk when the members presented several plays as well as other feature programs. No wonder Philo has a girl president!

PHILO PRAISE was the result of the climax of the Spring Term programs in the annual Hon. Homer A. Ramey Oratorical Contest. Another girl president and a worthy one.

Washington Birthday Orators

Lynch, Solomon, Eibling, Codding.

One of the traditions at Northern is that of giving a patriotic program in chapel on George Washington's birthday. Each literary society and the Law Association choose an individual to represent them on this occasion.

In keeping with this tradition four orations were given in Lehr auditorium Friday morning, February 21.

Elbert F. Eibling represented the Philos with an oration on "If Washington Lived Today." His effective discourse, presented in a pleasing manner, made the Philos justly proud.

Donald Codding spoke for the Franklins, choosing for his subject, "The Americanism of Lincoln." He handled this theme as only a true lover of Lincoln could handle it.

Dwight L. Solomon, from the Adelphian Society, presented "The Life of Wilson." The picture which he painted of our former president commanded the attention of all who were present.

E. Paul Lynch was chosen by the Law Association. In his oration on "Thomas Jefferson," Mr. Lynch pointed out many things in connection with this great man's life which are commonly overlooked.

The Varsity Band enjoyed a most successful and busy season. In the Fall quarter it appeared for the fourth time at the Bellefontaine Fair, for the first time at Wapakoneta, and has a return engagement scheduled for next year. Also appearances were made at Lima, Kenton and smaller towns of Hardin County.

The band played at all home football games and through the generousity of the student body was able to accompany the team to Heidelberg and Denison.

The appearance of the band this year was greatly improved by the new Hussar uniforms, large brass drum and Sousaphone. In the Winter quarter Lyceum course engagements were filled at Bluffton, Dola, La Rue and Belle Center. In the Spring quarter concerts were given at Findlay, Fostoria, Lima, Bucyrus, Kenton and Wapakoneta.

ON UXMOOR ROAD

BY TOM FREEMAN

The young squire rode along the shore just at the close of day;
His thoughts were far from Uxmoor, and his nag had gone astray.
He met a blithesome,barelegged lass, her kirtle flying free.
"Pray, what's the road to Uxmoor, Sweet? I fear I've lost my way."
The girl was glad to show the trail. "It leads like this, and this—"
The squire leaned from his saddle-bow and offered her a kiss.
She gave his cheek a wicked slap, and sprang back all unwilling.
"Your kisses for your sisters, sir! I'd rather have a shilling!"

A gray and wrinkled beldame, with fagots on her head,
Turned when a pleasant, anxious voice across her shoulder sped.
"Pray, grandam, where's the Uxmoor road? I've lost my way, I fear,
And I'd like to get back home before the sun has gone to bed."
She pointed out the half-hid path; his fingers sought his vest,
And came forth with a silver coin which in her palm he pressed.
She looked at what lay in her hand, and "Oh, dear God," she said,
"I wish that he had offered me one little kiss instead!"

THE TRAGIC STORY OF THE PRESS CLUB PARTY

Like a beautiful butterfly the Press Club party suddenly burst forth, one fatal evening at the K. of P. hall, passed three hours of hilarious enjoyment and was over. But, unlike the beautiful butterfly which dies and is heard of no more, news of the Press Club party grew in extent and volume until a few days after its members had had that last night of unreserved merriment, the storm clouds of investigation broke on their unsuspecting heads in the form of the dreaded Thou-Shalt-Not Committee of Discipline of Ohio Northern University. Mysterious meetings behind closed doors were held and at last the verdict was given. Honors withdrawn. No longer were they members of the staff of the Northern Review. To time immemorable must they hang their guilty heads in shame. This was the unlucky lot of the law-breakers.

Oh, such a catastrophe to such a delightful story!

In Memoriam

Girls are pretty things to see
Running wild, and sweet as bees,
Of them we cannot see enough,
When we have fallen for their touch.

Rut when at last we meet them fair,
When we are here and they are there,
On them we never can depend
For what a sweet line they can send.

I had a girl I thought was true
I'm sure I loved her through and through,
She seemed so gentle and so sweet,
I almost worshipped at her feet.

Then came the fateful day along
When I no longer sang a song,
And she no longer seemed to see
Much pleasure in my company.

She started in by making dates,
With other fellows, and of late
It seems that everything she knows,
Is stepping out, and wearing clothes.

Now fellows take a fool's advice
And never treat the girlies nice,
For if you do, you're sure to see
What fools we mortals often be.

So live and learn and learn and live,
Forgive, forget, forget, forgive.
And while we wait and watch and pray,
Let all of us together say,

We like you, yes we love you too,
No matter what you say or do.
And when, perhaps, you've made the round
You'll wish you hadn't turned us down.

— Harold.

Human Nature

If I make a date with a girl,
And she lets me kiss and pet her,
I think, "She lets 'em all do this"
And then I go home and forget her.

If I make a dare with a girl,
And she will not let me pet her,
I think, "My gosh, this jane is dumb,"
And then I go home and forget her.

Prof.—A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer.
Student—I wondered why I flunked so many exams.

Most men like girls who refuse to wear short skirts any longer.

THE ADVERTISER'S LOVE SONG

You have the Skin I Love to Touch,
You've kept that smooth School Girl Complexion,
Because I Love Nice Things so much
You've won my heart and my affection.
I love your Sunkist hair, your smile,
Your kisses—I cannot deny
For one of them I'd Walk a Mile,
They're Mild and Yet They Satisfy.

It's plain Such Popularity
Must Be Deserved. With all my power,
I'll tell the world you are to me
A miracle, Fresh Every Hour.
Yes There's a Reason—which is you!
About me your enchantment casts
A spell which is forever new—
In other words—The Flavor Lasts.

Oh, let me always be about
To guard you from life's many ills,
Absorb the Shocks That Tire You Out
And pay your board and lodging bills.
Eventually, Why Not Now?
We'll settle down, no more to roam,
And have—if so the fates allow—
A Little Fairy in Our Home!

MAY DAY

A Tragedy in Two Parts

A rook—a saxophone—a sorority—he plays.
A head—a flower pot—a crash—he lays.

The most stirring passages ever written are found in the Cook Book.

He—May I kiss you, dear?
She—Have you a street car ticket?
He—Yes, one on the Ada short line.
She—Then go as far as you like.

I like to go to chapel
And there to lie in slumber
Meanwhile making noises
Like sawing up of lumber.

The men who lead don't always follow in their father's footsteps.

Co-ed—How dare you! Father said he'd kill the first man who kissed me.
Ed.—How interesting. And did he?

Daizbelle—"Ed, here comes the landlady."
King—"S'll right, dear, I know how to handle these jealous women."

George P.—Sweetheart, you are beautifully, wonderful, superb, magnificent—er—ah— .
Dot W.—Aw, go on.

Latest Song Hit

"I didn't raise my boy to live on Co-ed cooking."

Falky—"How far do you get on a gallon?"
Sunny Waters—"All depends on what's in the gallon."

He called his wife "dear"
At a masquerade ball.

Mildred Lease—"Love."

Rachel—Can you drive with one hand?
Brownie—You bet I can.
Girl—"Well, then hug me."

Tommy Joe—Don't make any more of these biscuits, dear.

Tommy—"You're too light for such heavy work."

THE O. N. U. BANK — THE BANK OF SERVICE

NONSENSE

There was a young man who went down in the south,
He ate hot tamales and burned his mouth.
He ran to the doctor to get something cool.
When he arrived Doc said. "My what a fool!"
Into the office came a winsome young nurse,
Just the sort who is able to deplete ones purse.
With one hand on his pulse and one on his head,
"How luck! ," said he, "I'm glad I'm not dead."
As for this young man, you'd better bet
The dear nurse is holding his hand yet.

You can't kiss a girl unexpectedly.
The best you can do is kiss her sootier than she thot you would.

THE DESERT

By Tom Freeman

The new moon rises like a burnished scimitar
Thrust forth to cut the dusky throat of night;
The weird howl of a jackal echoes far,
And camels shiver in the camp's pale light.
The dim blaze casts huge shadows on the waste;
The age-old Sphinx, his riddle yet unread,
Gazes where glorious cities, now effaced,
Rose, ruled, were ruined and then joined the dead.
Here wanton Cleopatra's eyes' dull fire
Led Roman Antony to become her slave;
Now dead are they, and cold their fine desire,
And dust is what was queenly and was brave.
Where those two royal lovers used to kiss,
Triumphant still is heard the viper's hiss.

—New York Sun.

Prof.—My Haase, what is work?
Sleepy Bill—(Stretching and opening one eye) Everything's work.
Prof.—Do you mean to tell me that this table is work?
Bill—(Closing eye and resuming former attitude) Sure, woodwork.

Said Kathryn, "I hate to bum,
Rut, Henry Boy, I've lost my gum."
Said Henry Roy, "I've got you there,
I always aim to pack a spare."

My girl, she is a learned queen
With too much knowledge in her bean.
"A kiss," says Rosie, "carries germs"
Thus my contention she confirms.
For if there are microbes in a kiss
Then ignorance indeed is bliss.
When I hold her hand in mine
She quite forgets her learned line.
And when the proper time occurs
She gets microbes and I get hers.

It doesn't take four years in college to find out that one girl in the dark is worth two under a light.

All the world's a stage and all the co-eds try to be Salomes.

THE SUREST WAY

The common daily tasks of life
Seem poor and mean and small,
And oft we scorn them to respond
To some alluring call.

The tasks that lie so close at hand
Grow irksome to the soul
And are forsaken for some dream,
Some visionary goal.

And yet the surest road to fame;
To deeds that stir and thrill;
Is doing the tasks that lie at hand
With all our strength and will.

A little moonlight now and then
Marries off the best of men.

He—What would you say if I kissed you on the forehead?
She—I would call you down.

A Confession

I've always heard that dancing is wrong,
That the path to heaven is steep and long,
That smoking is wicked and drinking much worse
And the devil himself owns the man who will curse.
I've never kissed a pretty maid, or even held her hand,
I never knew her waist was made to fit the arm of man.
All these and other sinful things I've truly never done,
But let me warn you all right now, it hasn't been much fun.

Of all sad words for girls and men,
The saddest are these, "It's half-past ten."

A date
A car
Out late.

SARGASSO

BY TOM FREEMAN

This is the graveyard of old sailing ships—
Unburied, broken masts bleach in the sun;
Dead as last kisses on dead lovers' lips,
And quiet now, their mission being done.
Time was—and not so long ago—when these,
Their sails flung wide, were coursers of the main,
Braving the thousand dangers of the seas,
For England's glory or to honor Spain.

Though now no shred of pennon swings to tell
In what forgotten cause their path was laid,
Still we may know they served their masters well,
For those who captained them were unafraid.
Scarcely a passing gull sweeps from the sky
To look at them, so quietly they lie.

—CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER.

SENIOR EMINENCE

The President stood in the Hall of Fame,
"So great am I," said he,
"The Fresh, the Soph, the Juniors, all Acknowledge my greatness to me."

The Senior came with head upheld,
No fear did he possess,
He took his place by the President's side,
For he knew his mightiness.

The President, wise, for a learned man
At once saw he was beat,
He looked the Senior full in the eye,
Then made a hasty retreat.

Now the Senior stands in the Hall of Fame,
A beautiful statue, he,
When the President passes he bows and says,
"All homage I pay to thee."

If Advertising Pays, Then Fine Clothes Do, Too

Wearing fine clothes is a good form of personal advertising.

Leave out of account the comfort good clothes give and the sense of satisfaction.

Look on them just as a venture in self-advertising.

Isn't it really sensible and thrifty for the ambitious man to wear smart, fine clothes?

You Are Always Welcome

Listen to this tale of woe.
I'm sure a flashing Romeo;
I met a girlie in the park,
Said I, "Here is a chance to spark."
So out there underneath the trees,
I said, "Oh, will you kiss me please?"

Was it a "Yes,"
Or was it "No,"
She handed me, her
Romeo?

It was not "No,"
It was not "Yes,"
Nor did she yield me
that caress.

She looked at me,
With weary eyes,
And answered me,
without surprise:

(Was it a "Yes,"
Or was it "No?")
"You are a slow-poke,
Romeo!"

THE GOLDEN SNARE

BY TOM FREEMAN

A sonnet is a fragile golden snare,
That crazy fellows men call poets weave
Of dream stuff at the witching hour when Eve
Across the wold lets down her dusky hair.
Finished, the maker takes his sonnet where
Rhaicos comes, his lost loved nymph to grieve,
Or Satyrs flash past, thinking to achieve
At last the capture of the fleeting fair.

With this men chase that phantom butterfly
That they call beauty. Ceaselessly they wind
The forest trails. Untiring they pursue.
And some—most lucky they—at last draw nigh
To loveliness, and cast their nets, to find
A broken mesh where beaut!. has slipped through.

But—she had—to break the ice.

LOVE

A mother loves her child,
And it's natural that she should.
A cowboy loves his horse and,
Always treats him good.

But the only love in this old world,
To compare with the love of a mother,
Is the infinite, lingering, passionate love,
Of one dead drunk for another.

"If No One Ever Marries Me—"

(By a Bachelor—with Apologies)

If no one ever marries me—
  And they don't seem very keen,
For I can't pretend I'm handsome,
  And my purse is rather lean—
If no one ever marries me,
  I'll get along alright—
I'll play at golf the whole day through.
  And at bridge the livelong night.

I shall have a little sailing yacht,
  And a motor all my own,
And I shan't be plagued with children's bills.
  For things that they've outgrown,
And when I'm sick of everything,
  And dull as dull can be,
I'll think how glad I've made some girl
  Who didn't marry me.

—Hamilton Royal Gaboon.

Co-ed—'Er-r, let me see something else, please.

Prof.—Why haven't you your lesson?

Prof.—Why didn't you turn them on and send him home?

There's nothing like combining pleasure and business, said the tailor's daughter, as she wrecked the crease in her lover's trousers.
